City Reported Quiet.

CHICAGO, October 12, 10:50 A. M.—There was no renewal of the fires last night, and nothing occurred to disturb the city.

General Sheridan has complete control, and confidence is fully restored.

The various committees are busy, and now that relief is thoroughly organized, all the needy are being relieved.

At a meeting of the various committees from other cities, held in this city last evening, the following appeal was unanimously adopted:

"The relief committees appointed by the different cities of the country, to bring on supplies and investigate the immediate necessities of the devastated city of Chicago, beg leave to present this appeal to the commercial men and capitalists of the United States: After a careful survey of a calamity unparalleled in the history of the world, with the evidence before them of overwhelming losses, mental trials, individul sufferings and pressing necessities never before experienced by any community, they pray their fellow-citizens, and especially those having business relations with the city of Chicago—a city whose enterprise, industry and exhaustless energy have conferred honor on the American people—to sustain the business men in this their hour of trial. Their calamity is great. Let your confidence abide with them. Extend to them a generous liberality by compromise and extensions, which are needed, and by the largest possible advance in money, so that the business property of the city may be restored, the desolated districts rebuilt, and its greatness re-established."

The Republican this morning, the anniversary of its first year under its present proprietors, issues a small half sheet and announces the determination to continue its publication.

The Tribune comes out with an entire sheet this morning, and with more than a whole page of advertisements, mostly announcements of merchants and other business men of opening in new places of business.

The Tribune, in an editorial headed "Rebuild the City," says: "All is not lost. Though four hundred millions of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed, Chicago still exists. She was not a mere collection of stone, brick and lumber; these were but the evidences of the power which produced these things; they were but the external proofs of the high courage, unconquerable energy, strong faith and restless perseverance which have built up here a commercial metropolis. The great natural resources are all in existence. The lake with its navies, the spacious harbor, the vast empire of production extending westward to the Pacific, the great outlet from the lakes to the ocean, the thirty-six lines of railroads connecting the city with every part of the continent, these, the great arteries of trade and commerce, all remain unimpaired, undiminished, and are all ready for immediate resumption. What, therefore, has been lost? We have lost the accumulated profits of twenty years of prosperous growth. We have lost the stock in trade on hand on the night of the fire. We lost money, but we have saved life, health, vigor and industry. We have a dozen grain elevators yet remaining. We have material on hand with which to replace those we have lost. We have within thirty-six hours' time the whole country to draw upon for supplies, and of every description of goods. In two weeks from the date of the fire, our merchants can fill almost any order for merchandise that may be sent them. The credit of Chicago is the same. When the whole country has faith, and hope, and confidence in us, there will be no depression in Chicago itself. The wholesale trade of the city can be resumed at one. Temporary warehouses are being erected and business resumed. Let no trouble be borrowed from the past; all the losses of the fire will in time be passed into the great clearing-house, and the payment of balances will be made easy for everybody. Rich men have become poor, the accumulations of years have been destroyed, but no one will sit down and waste time in crying over the spilt milk. Let us avail ourselves of the liberal spirit which the country has shown in our calamity. There are no relentless creditors pressing us for payment on mortgages, or demanding the full measure of their bonds, but, on the contrary, the world is asking us to take money, unlimited credit, and go ahead, leaving the past to be taken care of in the future when Chicago shall have resumed her power and glory. Let the watch-word thenceforth be, 'Chicago shall rise again.'"

This editorial reflects perfectly the almost universal feeling of the citizens of all classes, so far as mere words can do, their gratitude for the universal sympathy which has been expressed in the most practical form for the sorely smitten city. The writer says, "The response of the people of the United States to the appalling calamity which has overtaken our city has no parallel in the history of the world since Christ died for our sins. We cannot return our thanks for their loving kindness. Words falter on our lips. Only our streaming eyes can tell how deeply we feel their goodness. While, however, the stricken people have already roused themselves from the first stunning, bewildering effects of the terrible blow to their business, they are manfully girding themselves to rebuild their ruined fortunes."

CHICAGO, October 12.—Geo. W. Wood Assistant Superintendent of the United States Postal Service, has issued the following order:

Office of the Assistant Superintendent of Railroad Service, October 12th.—NOTICE.—All postmasters, postal clerks and route agents will make up no mails for distribution in Chicago. They will send only the Chicago city mail, and throw all such into the postal cars and larger offices for distribution.

[Signed,] GEO. W. WOODS,
Asst. Supt. U. S. Postal Service.

The General Masonic Relief Committee of Chicago have published the following order: "To the Masonic Fraternity—Our brethren need money, clothing and bedding. Consignments and remittances made to D. C. Cregier, Masonic Temple, Chicago, will be received and dispensed through our organization. By order, J. C."

Governor Palmer has called the Legislature together. They will assemble at Springfield to-morrow. A committee from this city will go down to-night to suggest measures for relief.

4 P. M.—Governor Hayes, who has been here for three days, assisting in the work with that energy and practical good sense for which he is noted, issues the following suggestions:

To the People of Ohio—It is believed by the first and best informed citizens here that many thousands of the sufferers must be provided with the necessaries of life during the whole winter. Let the efforts to raise contributions be energetically pushed. Money, fuel, flour, pork, and other articles not perishable should be collected as soon as possible, especially money, fuel and flour. Mr. Medill, of the Tribune, estimates the number those who will need assistance at about 70,000.

[Signed,] R. B. HAYES.

Lieutenant General Sheridan has issued the following order:

Headquarters Military Division of Missouri, Chicago, October 12.—To His Honor, the Mayor—The preservation of the peace and good order of the city having been entrusted to me by your Honor, I am happy to state that no case of outbreak or disorder has been reported. No authenticated attempt at incendiarism has reached me, and the people of the city are calm, quiet and well disposed. The force at my disposal is ample to maintain order, should it be necessary to protect the district devastated by fire. Still, I would suggest to the citizens not to relax in their watchfulness until the smouldering fires of the burned buildings are entirely extinguished.

[Signed,] P. H. SHERIDAN,
Lieutenant General.

Mayor Mason issues the following appeal: Clothing and all protection from cold will be needed through the winter as well as now. Send forward in as large quantities as possible. Collect money and hold it subject to our order. Send in provisions that will keep. Cooked meats may spoil before we can distribute them. Aid arrives liberally now. We want to husband our resources as much as possible, for a long winter is before us. The suffering will continue until our laboring classes are again enabled to sustain their families.

[Signed,] R. B. MASON, Mayor.

The statement telegraphed yesterday that all the pictures in the House Gallery were destroyed is happily incorrect. Mr. Aiken, the superintendent of the gallery, was enabled to remove its entire contents, together with many of the pictures in Mr. Crosby's private gallery.

To give a list of the cities, towns and villages in the country that, without waiting for requests, have forwarded bountiful supplies of provisions, blankets and clothing to the sufferers, it would be necessary to furnish a complete gazetteer of the United States. Among the many whose subscription was simultaneous with their knowledge of the fire may be mentioned the cities of Des Moines and Grinnell, Iowa. Quincy, Illinois, sent three car loads, raised in a less number of hours, accompanied, as were nearly all offerings, by a committee of the best citizens. In addition to the contributions of food and clothing, there have been munificent donations of money and food from both private and public sources. In addition to some already mentioned are the following: St. Louis, $50,000, and the citizens $70,000; Pittsfield, Mass., $5,500; J. C., has forwarded by a special messenger $3,727 and promises to send more to-morrow.

CHICAGO, October 12.—A number of the telegraph operators in the city were burned out of house and home. The operators of St. Louis, feeling for their brothers in Chicago, have forwarded a car load of clothing and provisions. Gen. Stager, General Superintendent of the Western Union Company, in order to prevent extortion being practised upon his employes by grocers, &c., ordered a car load of provisions from Cleveland, which are now here for their use.

In the private office of Mr. Cowles, Business Manager of the Tribune, which was directly adjoining the counting room, was a relic of the siege of Paris, in the shape of a Krupp shell, which was exploded by the heat and tore a breach in the walls fifteen feet wide from the foundation to the roof.

A private dispatch from St. Louis, to General Stager, says that a dispatch was sent from this city yesterday to the effect that St. Louis rebels were here and setting fire to the city. No such dispatch was sent from Chicago through the Associated Press. It must have been sent by a special correspondent of some paper. The whole statement is a pure invention. There is no knowledge here of any occurrence of the kind. The city was never more orderly, and there is now no evidence of unusual incendiaries.

CHICAGO, October 12—At a full meeting of the wholesale grocers of the city, held this afternoon, it was unanimously resolved that we ask no compromise with our creditors; we only want time, and are determined to pay one hundred cents on the dollar.

[Signed,] W. STEWART, President.
John Messer, Secretary.

It has been ascertained from official reports that 50,000,000 feet of lumber were destroyed, and that 24,000,000 feet are still on hand.

One hundred thousand dollars were subscribed to-day toward rebuilding the Chamber of Commerce on the site of its ruins, and work will be commenced at once.

The wholesale provision dealers, wholesale flour dealers and wholesale lumber dealers refuse to take advantage of the situation, but continue to sell their goods at old prices. The same is true of the coal dealers who have any stock left. Temporary buildings are being built in every direction, and by Saturday night there will be hundreds all ready for occupation. The Underwriters to-day estimate the total amount of insurance in the burnt district as between one hundred and one hundred and twenty million dollars. There is a marked change in the spirit of the people. The first feeling was one of utter prostration, but it has gradually given way. The burnt district is no longer an object of interest, save as to the selection of sites for rebuilding. Every buisness man who can find a shed in which to resume has got out his rough shingle. There is a universal feeling of hope, and a most remarkable feeling of hope is shown by all. There is no more despondency. Country debtors are remiting. The banks give hearty encouragement, and the insurance solvency becomes more and more promising. Chicago is again on her feet. The Assistant General Superintendent of the Home Insurance Company of New York announces that their losses in this fire aggregate about two and a half million dollars, and that they will pay every dollar without delay.

The Secretary of the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company announces that the business there, including shipments for the east, will now move along as usual, and they will furnish drafts on New York for live stock sales to-morrow. The live stock commission firms are all doing business, and live stock shipments can be handled and payments for them made as usual.

General Sheridan makes a request through the Associated Press to the people of the country to dissuade those who are anxious to visit Chicago from coming. Thousands of this class are here now, thronging the streets, without shelter or accommodations, and who must be fed and cared for the same as the sufferers.

Of the employes of the Post Office one hundred are sufferers by the fire. The vast distribution of this office has been divided between Cincinnati, St. Louis and Detroit. Three of the old distributors left for Cincinnati to-day. Postmaster Foulds, of that city, is here, assisting to rearrange the service.

The following is furnished by a correspondent of the New York Tribune: I have just returned from the ghastliest promenade ever seen in the world. From Congress street to Lincoln Park and beyond to Wright's Grove, four miles, of what was last week the business and most vigorous portion of the west, there is now one wide-spread desolation, marked by scorched and calcined chimneys, by mounds of glowing brick and stone, all covered like a wintry plain with a fall of whitening ashes. The lonliness and monotony of the view is as wearisome and depressing as that of the desert. Formerly every quarter of the city had its distinctive character, and along the banks of Lake Michigan to the south of the river rose the stately mansions of the men whose energy and industry had made Chicago what it was. Few streets in any city could present as uniform a display of wealth and taste in their residences as Wabash and Michigan avenues. In the square burned on three sides by the lake and the Chicago river, and on the south by Van Buren street, there were embraced some of the finest business houses on the continent and higher average of beautiful and costly architecture than had ever been applied on the world to purposes of trade. Along the river on either side, the tall, ungainly forms of the elevators—those monstrous growths of the commerce of the northwest—mirrored their awkward angles in the turbid waters, visited by unnumbered keels. In the north division the ground to the west is occupied by larger manufacturing establishments, and to the east by the modest and tasteful houses of the trading classes. All this variety and distinction has been obliterated in a day by the hands of the conflagration. The loveliest garden on the avenue, which was just below my window, is as squalid and miserable with the wild trampling of the hoofs of this disaster as any back yard or soap boiler. On Canal street the wretched tenement houses which sheltered the laboring poor are now clean and white in their ashes, and their chimneys form a shapeless monument; there is equality at least between the hovel and palace in their shrouds of desolation. What most impresses one in the aspect of the burnt district is its utter lonleiness. The debris which cumbered the streets the day after the fire has in a great measure been cleared away. The sidewalks are somewhat littered still by the ruins, but circulation is perfectly free throughout the quarter. In the centre of the city there is a certain number of curious spectators, lounging and chatting among the ragged and tottering walls. There are many of the buildings in this quarter which were so strongly and solidly built that their shells still stand stubbornly defiant after all the fury of the conflagration. The Tribune office, the custom house, the court house—still imposing in its ruins, which took in twenty years to build and twenty minutes to burn—the great Pacific Hotel and the Lyon Black attract the most attention from the æsthetic tourists and idlers. They are certainly very picturesque, and are, I may even say, beautiful with their cold, gray walls, blotched here and there with an angry stain of smoke, like a patch of lichens, and showing the pale blue of the mottled sky through their rifts and wide windows. But when you get away from the centre of the town and cross over to the north division, it is most striking to see how sudden a silence and solitude has fallen upon this great and once beautiful suburb. You can drive for an hour over the smooth, firm Nicholson pavement, very little damaged by the fire, and see scarcely a living thing in all the ashen waste. I saw an old man up to the knees in an extensive brewery, fishing out some pots and kettles. He looked up and dropped his rusty looking tinware as if he had been caught robbing a grave. A few clever fellows have already invented an apparatus for lifting safes out of the fire, and you may occasionally meet them moving about in search of a job, but throughout these miles of wide streets there is less life and less movement than on a country road, and the people who meet unconsciously salute each other, as in a desolate forest. The houses in this region being in a great measure dwellings and work shops, were not so strongly built as in the central part of the city; few walls have resisted the fury of the flames. They have fallen flat and scarcely more than fill the cellars; so that as you drive over the streets they seem like a causeway raised to traverse the abysses of fire and ashes on either side. The chief landmarks are the Shelton Church, whose walls still stand open to the sunlight, and the breezes haunting the stone, like ghosts of temples which have suffered martyrdom. The slim and graceful tower of the water works also remains, domineering its stricken plain, and guarding the entrance of the enormous tunnel, which is the glory of Chicago. But if you cross the river once more, and go into the west side, into the portion of the city which survives, you can understand why there is such solitude among the ruins. There the energetic and practical people have no time to waste among the tombs. As soon as the fate of their houses and places of business was decided, they hurried over to the quarter which still stood, and began over again their battle with fortune. Every available ground floor and garret in Jefferson Court and Clinton street, and all that neighborhood, has been seized upon by the dispossessed. The Tribune and the Journal are there established side by side. The Post, Republican and Times have all found temporary roosts, from whence their chant of reveille and defiance is as loud and cheering as ever in their most prosperous days. The hotels have migrated also, carrying their names and their traditions with them. The great business houses are crowding the relics of their stock into shops that burst with richness. Down Michigan avenue, on that safe street- and lake side, which becomes Michigan Terrace, the last and loneliest sacrifice to the flames, you see the names of banks and insurance companies hastily scrawled upon tin shingles and hung at the doors of decorous private houses. On the low sand beach that lies below Michigan avenue they have projected a line of temporary business houses, and the first of them went up at once, and as quickly as a house of cards. Under my window this evening, a dozen will probably be built to morrow. There seems to be no brovado, no ostentation of pluck and audacity, but a resolute, manly intention to make the most of a bad situation. These superb merchants and business do not seem to think there is anything of fire in their attitude, but the world will certainly not deny them its hearty admiration.

The city is orderly and tranquil; the hungry are fed; the naked clothed; the church and public buildings of the west side give shelter to the homeless; the railways convey to their friends all who desire to go, and all devoutly trust that the severest distress and panic is over.

NEW YORK, October 12.—The Chicago disaster is still the prevailing topic everywhere. Intelligence from that city is sought after with increasing interest, although the news received last night that the bankers of Chicago find the calamity not so great as estimated to the financial interest has a quieting effect on the financial department here. The evidence of the extent of the losses causes the deepest sympathy, and the disposition to continue the work of distributing aid to the distressed is in no sense abated. From every quarter relief is pouring in. With laudable generosity supplies of food, clothing and other necessaries are forwarded to the suffering by fast trains. The appointment of a committee is proposed for the purpose of looking after the contributions and collections. Up to last night over four hundred and fifty thousand dollars had been raised in the city, and the suburban towns will run the amount up to one million dollars. There are indications that within a few days not less than two millions of dollars will have been subscribed in this city and adjacent places.

The newspaper press has made urgent appeals for relief and subscriptions, and have done much in furtherance of the work.

The Tribune says the movement for practical aid should not be allowed to die out, and that the country localities and individuals of the city should be mindful that their help is needed. The abundant offerings that have been poured out from the whole country, it thinks, should not divert attention from the magnitude of the exigency, and says that no one should fear that the relief will not be judiciously distributed.

The fire department has sent three steam fire engines to Chicago at the request of the chief engineer of that city.

Nearly all the churches will make collections for the relief fund on Sunday next.

Some eighteen dry goods houses yesterday contributed twenty thousand dollars.

The Erie road took out one hundred thousand dollars' worth of supplies last evening.

NEW YORK, October 12.—Oswego last night agreed to raise $10,000 for the relief of Chicago. Contributions will be made by Binghampton to-night. The Erie relief train for Chicago arrived at Buffalo last night, having made unprecedented speed. Rondout raised $2,000 last night; $2,000 more is promised. Thomas Connell gave $1,000. Albany contributed a total of $30,000. Washington City has raised $35,000, which will be increased by a legislative appropriation.

NEW YORK, October 12.—Jersey City subscribed up to noon on Thursday $5,000. The Mayor of Chicago is advised by telegraph to draw for the same. Over five hundred packages of clothing, bedding and dry goods were received at the City Hall in this city this morning. At eleven o'clock a car load left by the Erie road.

NEW YORK, October 12.—Newark, N. J., gives to the Chicago relief fund $12,000, and will increase it to $25,000; Middleton, N. J., gives $2,500; Trenton, N. J. $20,000; Newport, R. I., $5,000; Kinderhook, N. Y., $1,000; Montreal is raising $50,000; Halifax is subscribing. Schenectady will raise $5,000.

HARTFORD, October 12.—The net proceeds of Miss Kellogg's services last night, gave about four hundred dollars to the Chicago relief fund. Subscriptions are being made in the town of New Britain.

WORCESTER, October 12.—About $15,000 were raised here last night for the Chicago relief fund. It is intended to increase the amount to $50,000.

UTICA, October 12.—At a meeting here last night, $9,300 was subscribed and $10,000 appropriated by the Common Council. The committee will make further collections.

TORONTO, October 12.—At a meeting of the Council, the Mayor was authorized to draw on them at once for $10,000 in gold.

ST. JOSEPH, October 11.—Seven thousand dollars more were raised for the Chicago sufferers to-day. Twenty-two banks and business houses subscribed five hundred dollars each since yesterday. Two car loads of provisions also left at 5:20 this evening.

The St. Joseph Typographical Union raised two hundred and fifty dollars for their brethren in Chicago, which will go off in the morning.

The St. Andrews Society contributed two hundred dollars for the Scotchmen.

The excitement is unabated, and thousands of dollars will be contributed to-morrow.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, October 11.—A large meeting, presided over by Mayor Gravens, was held here to-night in aid of Chicago. Over three thousand dollars was raise on the spot, and tha City Council appropriated ten thousand dollars, and committees were appointed to canvass the city. A car load of provisions was sent from here to Chicago yesterday.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—In the Legislative Assembly of the District of Columbia, convened in extraordinary session to-day, a bill was passed on the first reading appropriating $100,000 for the relief of the Chicago sufferers. According to the rules the bill before its passage must be read on three several days. There is no doubt about its becoming a law.

At a meeting in Birmingham last night six firms gave one hundred pounds each on the spot. The amount collected is to be sent by cable to Mayor Hall to-night, that it may be used immediately. PHILADELPHIA, October 12, 1871.

The following is the official count, as announced this evening: Stokley, for Mayor, 9,089 majority; C. H. T. Collis, for City Solicitor, 9,825; Wm. B. Mann, for District Attorney, 2,027. There is great rejoicing to-night at the Union League headquarters. E.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 12, 8:03 P. M.

Judge Logan's election is conceded in this district by from four to six hundred majority. N. M. B.

OHIO.

COLUMBUS, October 12.—In fifty-two counties the Republican gain is reported on the State ticket at 4,329. Great interest has been manifested in the Legislature. As late as last night the result seemed to be in great doubt. Counting one Republican Senator and five Representatives from Hamilton county, the Legislature seems to stand: Senate—18 Democrats and 17 Republicans, and one district still in doubt. House—56 Republicans and 49 Democrats, and two counties in doubt.

GALLIPOLIS, Oct. 12.—Gallia county gives a majority for Noyes for Governor of 974—a gain over 1869 of 362.

A FENIAN RAID.

Th y Cross into Canada.

DISPERSED BY U. S. TROOPS.

General O'Neill Captured.

MONTREAL, October 12.—Official information has been received that the Fenian General O'Neil, with a large force of men, crossed at Pembina and seized the custom-house at Port Hudson Bay, Canada. United States troops dispersed them, O'Neil being captured. It is reported that a larger party crossed at Saint Joseph. Manitaba is greatly excited. Every able bodied man is under arms.

TORONTO, ONT., October 12.—Further advices have been received confirmatory of the account of the Fenian attack at Pembina on the 5th inst. They met with no resistance there, the place not being garrisoned. It appears that O'Donohue has been planning an attack on Fort Garry all summer, relying upon receiving support from the French half-breeds. The raid was intended to inspire them with confidence. He has been intriguing with the workmen on the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, counting on their help when work on the road was stopped. He is said to be accompanied by O'Neill, the Southern General, and had only about fifty men with him.

BALTIMORE.

Episcopal Convention.

BALTIMORE, October 12.—The forenoon to-day was devoted to a jubilee in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the domestic and foreign missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States by the two houses of the General Convention, with the Board of Missions, at Emanuel Church. Interesting addresses were delivered by Right Rev. B. B. Smith, Bishop of Kentucky, and others.

After these services the Convention was called to order.

Dr. Haight presented a report from the Committee on Canons on the subject of representation in the House Deputies from missionary jurisdictions, giving such delegates seats without a right to vote.

A message was received from the House of Bishops with the following resolution:

Resolved, That the declaration of the bishops of this church, this day signed in counsel, be entered upon the minutes of this house and communicated to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, for the information of that body, concerning the action of their bishops in a matter deemed to be of much gravity and of great interest to both houses of the General Convention.

The following is the declaration of the Bishops: We, the subscribers, Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, being asked in order to quieting the conscience of sundry members of the same church, do declare our conviction as to the meaning of the word "regenerate" in the offices for the ministration of baptism of infants, and do declare that in our opinion the word "regenerate" is not there so used as to determine that a moral change in the subject of baptism is wrought in the sacrament.

This declaration is signed by all the Bishops.

Adjourned to ten o'clock to-morrow.

—A very destructive fire broke out at Windsor, Ont., on Thursday night, destroying a very large amount of property. The Detroit fire engines went to their assistance

STILL MORE CALAMITIES.

The Fire Demon.

THREE HUNDRED VICTIMS.

CHICAGO, October 12.—A message has just been received from Green Bay, stating that a steamer had just arrived, bringing a report that two hundred and twenty five bodies were burned at Peshtego, Wis., last night, and as many more are missing.

Seventy-five persons were burned to death at Little Sturgeon Bay. The suffering in the north is terrible, and with the exception of the loss of property, is almost as appalling as the burning of Chicago.

THE GRAY CASE.

Fourteenth and Last Day—Conclusion of the Testimony—The Arguments Begun—No Verdict Yet—The Finale To-day.

The first part of that which we herewith publish, as will be seen, is the record of the testimony, taken on Tuesday afternoon. This was crowded out of our columns by an extraordinary press of other matter, and has not appeared in any journal. The parties interested are desirous that the record be made complete, and hence, yielding to their wishes, we find space for the omitted testimony, which renders the proceedings as published in the GAZETTE a perfect minute of the investigation.

TUESDAY, 2 o'clock, P. M.

The session opened with prayer by Rev. M. B. Pugh.

Mr. P. H. Hunker called—I am an official member of Christ Church; am a member of the Board of Trustees of Dollar Savings Bank. I know George T. Hobbs; have known him more than a year. From my knowledge of his character for truth and veracity, it is not good; I have heard it talked about, and so far as I have heard, it is bad.

Q.—Whom did you hear speak against his character for truth and veracity? A.—Mr. Gray, who did the stone work on the bank building, and Mr. Marshall. There were a great many others, but I don't recollect the names.

Q.—When did you hear Mr. Gray speak of him? A.—It was through the summer several times.

Q.—When did you hear Mr. Marshall speak of him? A.—A week or two ago, and probably last October, when some work he had said he had ordered, which he never had ordered.

Q.—Mr. Gray and Mr. Marshall were both speaking in connection with the work on the Dollar Savings Bank, were they? Yes sir.

Q.—Was Mr. Hobbs superintendant in that building and they workmen in the erection of that building under him? A.—Mr. Hobbs was Architect—Mr. Gray was contractor for stone work—Mr. Marshall furnished whatever was ordered there—Mr. Hobbs superintended the architectural part of the building.

Q.—What then had he to do with ordering things for Mr. Marshall? A.—He ordered by authority of the President. He was superintending the construction of the building.

Q.—Had Mr. Gray and Mr. Marshall any difficulties or differences to the Mr. Hobbs in reference to the material they furnished or the work they did? A.—Not as I know of, only that Mr. Gray had to carry out Mr. Hobb's ideas which he could'nt do him-self, without Mr. Gray and the bank would'nt be built if it had'nt been for Mr. Gray.

Q.—Did you hear any other person speak against Mr. Hobb's character for truth and veracity until after the rumors about the Fourth avenue matter. A.—I might have—I can't bring to mind.

Testimony read to witness and its correctness assented to.

Mr. C. B. Shea re-called—I was present at the conversation between Mr. Gray and Dr. Coffey, in referance to the revival. (On that occasion Dr. Coffey said.)

Q.—On that occasion did Dr. Coffey say that he was disgusted with the whole thing, or words to that effect.

Questions objected. Objection not sustained and ruling excepted to by Mr. White. A.—Dr. Coffey said—Gray, I'm perfectly disgusted with you; you don't know how to run meetings; Pershing is running these. I said, Mr. Gray the church will stand by you, go ahead. Dr. Coffey then mentioned something about leaving. I told him he had better leave, you are not so big that we can't get along without you. He went out.

Q.—Do you know Mr. Cheever of Ottawa Ill. A.—I was introduced to him in the summer of 1870.

Q.—Did he say anything in reference to the reputation of F. A. March while he lived in Ottawa.

Question objected to, and objection sustained.

Q.—Do you know what the reputation of F. A. March was prior to the time he came into your employ. A.—I never heard of anything against him.

Q.—Were you present at a meeting of the Board of Trustees March 6th. A.—If that was the meeting at which the resolutions were presented, I was.

Q.—What was said by those who voted against the resolutions as to what their action would be in case the testimony was submitted to the board. A.—With the exception of Mr. Little they would change their vote from No to yea.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY MR. WHITE.

Q.—At the time you refer to, when Dr. Coffey spoke to Mr. Gray about the revival meeting, did he address him as Bro. Gray, or Mr. Gray, or simply say Gray? A.—Exactly as I stated—"Gray."

Q.—Was Dr. Coffey addressing you as well as Mr. Gray? A.—I would suppose Mr. Gray.

Q.—Did he afterwards tell you that he had spoken to Mr. Gray about it and that Mr. Gray was satisfied with his explanation. A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Didn't Dr. Coffey say to you that you had misunderstood what he had said to Mr. Gray on that occasion. A.—To the best of my knowledge and belief, no!

Testimony read to witness and he assented to its correctness.

DR. A. FLEMING CALLED.

I am a practicing physician in Pittsburgh, and have been for thirteen or fourteen years; am acquainted with Rev J. A. Grey; I prescribed for him during 1870; I could not state definitely the time; I have no memorandum of it; as nearly as I can remember it was in the early summer of 1870; in prescribing for Mr. Gray I recommended stimulants, and named sherry wine, which he said had previously been prescribed for him, which he found disagreed with him, and used either brandy or whisky I could'nt state which; I desired him to continue what he found to agree with him.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY MR. WHITE.

Q.—Had you more than one conversation with him upon the subject of stimulants. A.—I cannot remember of any other special conversation upon that subject, but I have no doubt the matter of stimulants was referred to, for I have prescribed for him subsequently.

Testimony read to witness, and he assented to its correctness.

MR. HARRY HORNER CALLED.

I am a member of the M E Church; I sing in the choir of Christ's M. E. Church; I know Rev J. A. Gray; from the 6th of July to the 8th of August I spent in West Newton; I came on the train arriving at West Newton at 3:40, arriving in Pittsburgh about 6 o'clock P. M.; I returned to West Newton on the morning train, leaving Pittsburgh about 7 o'clock A. M.; Mr Gray came down with me three times out of the four trips I made: he went up with me on the same train. I am positive, three times; my impression is four, but not positive as to the four.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY MR. WHITE.

Q.—Which one of the four trips was Mr. Gray not with you? A.—I do not know.

Q.—When did you first let this fact be known that Mr. Gray made the three trips with you? A.—Not until after I saw the testimony since this investigation began.

Q.—Previous to that you had never spoken of it to any one, had you? A.—Not to any one except my wife.

Q.—When did you speak of it to her? A.—Several times while I was traveling to and from Pittsburgh. I can't tell dates.

Q.—Were you in the city last February? A.—Yes, I was.

Q.—Did you know the Trustees were investigating these rumors? A.—Yes, sir; I heard something of it.

RE-DIRECT—MR. HOPKINS.

We have no rehearsals on Saturday night; Mr. Gray would generally come in to rehearsals, having the hymns or have something to say.

Testimony read and "correct."

JOSIAH KING CALLED.

I am one of the proprietors of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE. I know George T. Hobbs; I was at his rooms a few times during the past year, but cannot fix the dates. It was about the time the new Dollar Savings Bank building was first occupied. On every occasion that I went there his door was fastened on the inside, and opened by himself to admit me.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY MR. WHITE.

Q.—What season of the year was it, warm or cold weather? A.—Whatever time the bank was occupied.

Testimony read and correct.

It is agreed that the Dollar Savings Bank was opened sometime in March, 1871.

Adjourned to meet at nine o'clock to-morrow, 11th inst.

Court opened at nine o'clock Thursday morning, and was opened with prayer.

REV GRAY ON THE STAND.

Mr. Hopkins called Rev. John A. Gray on the stand.

Mr. White objected to the witness on the ground that he was incompetent to testify. He was willing to allow Mr. Gray to make a statement.

Mr. Hopkins contended that Mr. Gray was fully competent to testify, and proposed to examine him.

Some further discussion ensued, Mr. White contending that the Chair had during the trial ruled out assertions made by Mr. Gray because they were not in evidence, and because he could not testify on his own behalf. The Committee could have the statement, but he denied that it could be received as legal and competent testimony.

Mr Dempsey said the rule of the church had been opposed to the introduction of accused persons to testify on their on behalf. He said that he would decide the witness was incompetent. He would not object to the witness making a statement if both sides were agreed.

Mr. Hopkins—For the purpose of allowing the General Conference to decide upon this question, as suggested by the presiding officer and for the purpose of allowing them an opportunity to keep progress with the civil practice of the country and of the world, I take an appeal from the ruling. I do this simply for the purpose stated.

Dr. Dempsey—That is proper. You can take exception. The witness can make a statement, if he so desires.

Mr. Hopkins—I decline to allow it to be made unless the statement is received as testimony.

As this could not be allowed under the ruling of the church, the witness was withdrawn.

REBUTTING TESTIMONY.

Mr. White called Mr. George Albree, who testified as follows: Am a director of the Dollar Savings Bank, and was a member of the Building Committee; have known Geo. T. Hobbs since 1869.

Q.—Do you know his reputation in this community for truth and veracity? A.—I was President of the bank, and am only acquainted with him in a business capacity as a member of the Building Committee.

Q.—Do you know his general character for truth and veracity? A.—I can't answer that only in a negative way that I never heard it called in question.

Q.—Did you ever hear his charcter for truth called in question?

Objected to and objection sustained.

Col. David Campbell was called and testified: I think I know the reputation of George T. Hobbs for truth and veracity; it is good; I never heard his character impugned.

W. S. Miller, Esq., was called and testified as follows: Am well acquainted with Mr George T. Hobbs; believe I know his general reputation for truth and veracity; it is very good; I have been to his rooms several times.

Albert Horne called—Am clerk at Horne & Co.'s; have been there for seven years; was there while March was employed; am a member of Smithfield M. E. Church; am personally acquainted with Mr. George T. Hobbs, and frequently visited his rooms; I know his general reputation in this community for truth and veracity; I have always understood it to be good.

Jacob Beeson called—Know Geo. T. Hobbs; I occupy a room at No. 64 Fourth avenue, and Mr. Hobbs was in the room almost every day. Q. Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A. I do not know that I can answer that question yes or no. Q. Did you ever hear of his reputation for truth and veracity called in question? Objected to and objection sustained. Exceptions taken by counsel for prosecution.

S. S. Carrier called—Know Geo. T. Hobbs very well; I think I know his reputation for truth and veracity; it is good in this community.

This concluded the testimony and both sides finally rested.

THE ARGUMENT

to the committee then began at ten o'clock, Rev. Dr. C. A. Holmes taking the lead for the prosecution. After speaking for an hour and a half he finished, and was followed by Rev. Dr. S. H. Nesbit for the defense, who spoke up to the hour of adjournment.

At the afternoon session the Lecture room of Christ Church was given up,—as preparations were being made for a public meeting there in the evening—Dr. Nesbit concluded his address about three o'clock, followed by Moreland, and he in town by MR. GRAY HIMSELF.

The Reverend gentleman's address was about twenty-five minutes long, and we regret exceedingly that an extraordinary pressure on our columns prevents its reproduction in the GAZETTE this morning. He commenced by referring to his coming to Pittsburgh; his cordial reception here; his success in the earlier months of his ministry, until one of the complainants commenced to take exceptions to him in various ways, to his style in the pulpit, to his habit of enforcing attendance at class meeting from the pulpit, to his manner of conducting other meetings of the church, all of which finally led to a rupture. From that time he said he had been followed, or as he called it, persecuted by this gentleman.

He referred also to the other complainants and a slight rupture he had with them on the occupancy of his pulpit by the Rev. Mr Rine; but that was subsequently healed and apparently all went well.

In reference to his intimacy with March he said the evidence showed, that cleanly. He had thought March to be an honest man and had recommended him to Mr. Horne only after urgent solicitation, because he was not in the habit of recommending any one in that way. He never knew March's failing until he (March) made the confession. When Toy and Frederick called upon him he thought they were "blackmailing" agents, and so ordered them out, but did not know that they referred to his going to March's room. He had really visited that room to rest at times and to prosecute his study of German. As God was his witness he never knew that any woman visited that room. He had never seen Annie Littell there and did not know her. After March's confession he had ceased to visit the room except in the mornings and sometimes at noon, when he thought March would be there.

The charge of intoxication on Wylie avenue he denied in toto and said he had no recollection of ever meeting Mr. Little there, or ever being on the street at that hour of the night. As to the drinking, he had only done so under the advice of a physician; the bar at Fayette Springs was not a public one, in the sense in which it had been spoken of. He denied before God ever drinking to excess or taking beyond the amount prescribed.

In conclusion he said he asked the committee not for mercy but for justice—simple justice. He felt clear in his own conscience and before Heaven. He felt that God would lead him out of this trouble. Then raising his eyes to Heaven, and stretching out his arms, he closed speaking, with the invocation,

"Only Thou my leader be
And I still will follow Thee."

Mr. Gray's manner during his address was animated and impassioned but never boistrous. He spoke from notes and seemed to be weighing well his language. The address made a deep impression upon all who heard.

Mr. White then began the closing argument for defense. At five o'clock a recess was taken. The Committee met again in the chapel at seven o'clock, and Mr. White came to the conclusion at a quarter to nine. There were about thirty persons in the room at the time, and the Committee retired to one of the music rooms of the College building to deliberate.

The others waited in suspense, in the chapel, passing the time by singing.

At ten minutes past eleven the door was opened and the Committee headed by Dr. Dempsey and all looking very grave, entered and walked down the aisle to the platform upon the steps of which Mr. Gray was seated.

The stanza was concluded by the singers, and Dr. Dempsey calmly adjusting his spectacles, said they had now come to the close of one of the greatest trials of his life, save that of death in his family. The verdict might not satisfy some, but he believed it had been conscientiously rendered. As he announced it he hoped the audience would make no demonstration of feeling.

He had endeavored throughout the trial to act as he believed, was right; he had his failings but he yielded to no man in the purity of his intentions and he felt he could as well die now at the close of this trial as at any other time. He thanked the Committee for their patience, and Christian spirit manifested always and hoped that all would take away from this trial the lesson that sin was a terrible evil.

He then hesitatingly and seemingly almost unable to make out the hand writing, read

as follows:

PITTSBURGH, October 12, 1871.

The undersigned Committee in the case of Rev. John A Gray, after carefully weighing the testimony, render a verdict of not guilty of the charges nor specifications.

We unanimously join in the following resolution:

Resolved, That while we do not find in the evidence produced, that the accused is guilty of the charges, we do find that he has been very imprudent in his frequenting of the room of F. R. March and making an intimate companion of him, as also in taking strong drink at the bar of the hotel at Fayette Springs and other places.

Signed by the Committee,
REV. HIRAM MILLER, D. D.
REV. A. B LEONARD.
REV. M. B. PUGH.
REV. R. HAMILTON.
REV J. W. SHIRER.

The stillness of death pervaded the room as he read—followed in a moment after with a hearty round of applause, and exclamations of "Amen," "a righteous verdict"

Mr. Gray was immediately surrounded and congratulated heartily, and though evidently greatly excited, manifested no especial outward emotions. The congratulations were over in a few minutes, when the hall was cleared—Mr. Gray being taken off by his friend Mr. Vankirk, who remained his staunchest adherent during all the troubles.

And so the curtain is rung down over this, one of the most remarkable and protracted ecclesiastical trials we have ever known. The world has the evidence, and the verdict, and here our province ends.

BREVITIES.

OUR citizens one and all will rejoice that the Gray trial has come to an end.

THE return judges of Allegheny county will meet this morning at 10½ o'clock to count the official vote.

THE Pittsburgh Gymnasium will open their new quarters, Philo Hall, on Saturday evening next. The fixtures are entirely new and of the very best. They were furnished by Prof. Wood, of New York. We hope this institution will receive the aid from our young it deserves.

DAVID R. EGY, a well-known contractor of Mount Washington, who was arrested last April, on a charge of bigamy, was yesterday, by the court discharged. It appears to have been a put up job, there being no evidence whatever to warrant the Grand Jury in finding a bill against him.

A GRAND celebration of the quarter-centennial anniversary of St. Cyprian Lodge No. 13 A. Y. M., took place yesterday afternoon. A large procession, headed by the Great Western band, marched through the streets of this city and Allegheny, and afterwards to Lafayette Hall, where able addresses were declared. A grand assembly and banquet at the hall last evening were interesting features of celebration.

GENERALITIES.

IT is said that an American has offered 3,000,000 francs per annum for the lease of the Palais d'Industrie in Paris. He wishes to make a vast gambling house of it.

LOUIS NAPOLEON'S carriages sold much better than his horses. They hadn't suffered from short commons during the siege. Vanity made some purchasers give a very high price.

FROM a recent statement by Dr. Gardner, medical officer of the city of Glasgow, we learn that it contains half a million of inhabitants, divided into about one hundred thousand households, which include the members of the family and the lodgers they may take. THE cholera has been checked in Constantinople.

THE great Chicago fire is said to have been caused by the explosion of an oil lamp.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY, Illinois, planted 186,000 acres of corn the past season, and produced enough to supply about a quarter bushel to every man, woman and child in the United States.

THE CITY of Manisto, Michigan, is reported, in our telegrams, as having been burned. It is on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, nearly opposite the ill-fated city of Chicago.

WE REGRET to learn that Senator Geo. Connell of Philadelphia is lying very low at his home. The rumor of his death is not true, although but little hope of his recovery is entertained. The State will lose an incorruptible legislator should he be taken off.

THE Associated Press agent at Pittsburgh, we see by our exchanges, telegraphed on the night of the election, that "Allegheny county had elected every member of the Assembly except one." We hope he will correct the error, as we have elected all of the members without the least doubt. This fact was fully ascertained before twelve o'clock Tuesday night.

THE efforts recently put forth to secure the release of the Fenian prisoners in England have resulted in failure. The Government announces that those prisoners already pardoned and set free, were convicted of purely political offences, whilst those remaining in prison were placed there for criminal acts, and cannot claim the intervention of the authorities for their release.

OUR dispatches announce that another wild raid has been made by the Fenians, under the irrepressible General O'Neill, on the Canadian border, seizing the Custom House at Port Hudson. O'Neill is reported captured by the United States troops. We cannot see what our troops were doing in Canada, and altogether we imagine the matter is greatly exaggerated. We await further information.

THE drouth which has prevailed through the Fall in southern and central Illinois is causing much loss to the farmers of that State. The prairies are parched and of no use for grazing. The stock is being fed from the gathered crops, whilst great difficulty is being experienced for the want of the usual supply of water. The wells, springs, and in some cases the streams are almost dry. Rain is needed very badly.

THE destruction of Rothermel's grand historical painting of the battle of Gettysburg, in the Chicago fire, is a great loss to both art and history in this country. The painting had won the admiration of the critics for its artistic merits and had also received the approval of the officers who fought on that terrible day, on account of its historical and topographical accuracy. It is to be hoped that Mr. Rothermel will find time and opportunity to produce a copy of his great work.

IT would be difficult to derive any comforting lessons from the destructive and calamitous fire in Chicago; and yet we sometimes think such dreadful scenes are allowed to occur among poor weak, selfish humanity, in order to draw us closer in the bond of brotherhood toward one another. The exhibitions of unselfish charity now making throughout our land, and even extending to some of the cities of England, are sufficient to greatly increase our estimate of the virtues of the human family. Such manifestations of sympathy as are now being almost universally made are God-like in character, and prove unmistakeably that the heart of man yet beats warmly for his fellow-man. We rejoice and are thankful that it is so.

THIS is a very important day for the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. The questions which the proceedings of the so-called ritualists have brought about were fully set before the General Convention, now in session at Baltimore, by the report of the Committee of Bishops, appointed by the last Convention to examine them, and to-day, Friday, was set apart for the discussion of the report. As it advises the prohibition of various ceremonies now in general use by high church clergymen, it is to be expected that it will meet with a great deal of opposition. Indeed, in all probability the two parties in the church will at last have a chance for the general engagement which every one felt sure would take place during the session of the present Convention.

LAWLESSNESS, blood-thirstiness and mob violence are among the distinguishing characteristics of the rank and file of the Democratic party. Its principles are so absurd and un-American they cannot be reasoned out, hence its devotees resort to the same method of demonstrating and enforcing them that a teamster does to the animals he drives. Not content with murdering inoffensive negroes, the Democrats of Philadelphia made a violent attack on the office of the Press on the morning after the election, fired on Colonel Forney as he was speaking from a bow-window looking on Seventh street, and discharged several shots at the building on the Chestnut street side. We clip the following account of the attack of the Democratic outlaws of Philadelphia, from the Press:

This morning, about one o'clock, to culminate the continuous outrages of the day, an assault was made on this office. As the returns from the State were being announced, and a band was serenading The Press by playing the national airs, a Democratic mob swept down the street and drove off the assemblage congregated around the building. Colonel Forney, at the time, was speaking from a bow-window facing on Seventh street. Simultaneous with the firing on this window a rush was made on the Chestnut street entrance, and although some shots were fired into the building the rioters were unable to gain the first floor. Policemen were recognized among the mob. The scene for a while equalled the riots of 1868 in the same locality. Let us hope that the crime and blood and murder of this day are the dying struggle of the serpent of Democracy in Pennsylvania.

We need not go South to seek for Ku-kluxism; we have it here in Pennsylvania. Nothing but the overwhelming Republican force prevents the Democracy of Pennsylvania from perpetrating the same nefarious deeds of which their Southern allies are guilty. The longer a party which is actuated by such a spirit of violence is kept out of power, the better will it be for the country.

THE ELECTIONS.

The results of Tuesday's election can not but be acceptable to the Republicans of the State and country. Ohio has given a largely increased majority, possibly reaching twenty-five thousand, and elected a majority of both branches of the Legislature. Our own State has gone Republican by ten to fifteen thousand majority, the official returns being required to ascertain the exact vote. This settles the question of our grand old party in the next Presidential contest, whilst it also insures our supremacy in Congress for one term more at least, if not for so long a time as we shall continue to labor for the promotion of the interests and welfare of our people. Pennsylvania is undoubtedly no longer to be classed among the doubtful States. With a light vote which is always against us, we have carried the State ticket, increased the Republican vote in many districts, reduced Democratic majorities in their strongholds, and increased our representation in the Legislature by at least five members. The victory is more decisive than the most sanguine anticipated, and our enemies stand appalled, thunderstruck at the result, so different from what they had expected. If we could do so well on a light vote, what may we not expect in 1872, when it is to be hoped our full force will be out? General Grant will sweep Pennsylvania, and carry it by fifty thousand majority, if nothing shall occur between now and the Presidential election a year and a month hence, to change the current of public opinion. That current is now fairly visible; the people have full confidence in the integrity of purpose and the ability of our President and his advisers. The past has forced this belief even on our bitterest partizan foe, and the plain good sense of the people of the United States will not submit to any change of administration so long as the present one is doing so wonderfully well. General Grant's re-election is assured, and we take this occasion to say that in this the country never exhibited greater prudence, or more evident wisdom. What would be the effect of the election of some ultra Democrat, to the Presidency at this time? Can any rational being doubt that it would be disastrous? The Democratic policy is, and has been openly, violently antagonistic to the aims and purposes of the national Republican party. It has in a number of ways been proven to be more in harmony with the wishes of the country's enemies, than with those of its friends. During the war, it pronounced the struggle to sustain the national unity and life a failure. It has, at times, openly opposed and attempted to repudiate the strength of the nation's right arm, its legal tender paper money. It has attempted to violate the sanctity of our pledges to our bond holders, the creditors whose money proved the salvation of the nation. It represents the wishes, the intentions, yea, the prayers of red-handed rebels, who to-day dictate its course, whilst, we believe, and all who place any faith in their utterances, both public and private, are bound to believe, that they yet cherish the hope that the darling fancy of their traitorous hearts, a Southern confederacy will be attained.

But our humble Democratic friend will make answer, those men are not prominent in the councils of the party, and do not attempt to accomplish any such purpose as the Northern people appear to fear, and charge them with. True, the time is not ripe; Democracy is not in power, and any attempt at this time to disturb the harmony of the nation's policy, with regard to its bonded indebtedness, and to whom indemnities shall be paid for losses during the war, would result in failure. But can any one doubt that such intention is designed by the Southern leaders? Else, why do they oppose with such bitterness the policy of the present administration. If they were in accord with the true sentiments of the loyal citizens of the Republic, they surely would not inveigh against our present chief magistrate and his subordinates with such malignity and develishness. They would hail them as prudent, wise and safe, as Republicans do, if their labors pleased them. Does any one believe that Jeff. Davis, Toombs, or Stephens, if either were President, and had a majority of Congress of the same political character as himself to support him and his measures, would continue the policy of the Republican administration? Can any intelligent man say that he believes he would? We should ask ourselves these questions as there can be no possible doubt that the supremacy of the Democratic party would bring these men prominently before the country again. They would be so to-day, if it were not deemed impolitic. They manifestly and undoubtedly are the most capable of leadership, of all the foremost men among the Democracy. They lead the party at one time—they will do so again, just when it is thought safe for them to do so. Are they to be trusted? will they ever become sufficiently penitent for all their past crimes against liberty, justice and mercy itself to induce any loyal man to cast his vote for them? And yet this is the purpose, and when the opportune time shall be thought to have arrived, when (if ever) Democracy shall have gained the power, these vile traitors will be given to us as rulers, and the peaceful, honorable and wise policy of the Republican National Union party will be reversed. Let every thoughtful man take this subject to his heart, and by a careful study of such possible results as might flow from Democratic ascendency learn to dread, despise and avert them.

DILWORTH'S DEFEAT.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Allow me, in behalf of many sound temperance men, to thank you for the timely article which appears in your issue of this date, headed, "The Lessons of Tuesday." The only objection that I have to your article is that it is too mild. You should have dealt your blows with greater severity. I am unable to find words strong enough, and scathing enough, with which to denounce the conduct of a few young striplings, who, under pretence of promoting the cause of temperance, compassed the defeat of Joseph Dilworth, Esq., as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. These ill-advised, head-strong and ambitious men have dealt a blow to the cause of temperance from which it will not recover for years to come. Their course is so strange and impolitic that I am sometimes in doubt whether they are really and sincerely the friends of temperance and moral reform. In all charity, I feel bound to say that these "reformers" are actuated more by a love of notoriety and a disposition to dictate than by a real love for reform. It is all very well for them to meet in their proseuchae, and unite in solemn devotion, but the result of their labor demonstrates clearly that however powerful they may be in prayer, they are totally imbecile in politics. Mr. Dilworth was nominated, as I understand, in accordance with their urgent request. With this they should have been satisfied. The regard shown by the Republican County Convention for their preference should have secured their hearty co-operation in an endeavor to elect the entire Republican ticket of the county. But these ambitious young boys were not satisfied. As soon as a vacancy occurred in the Board of County Commissioners, after the nomination of their own man, Mr. Dilworth, they made another demand, and because it was not complied with, they at once entered upon a course which was not only calculated to defeat Mr. Dilworth, but the entire Republican ticket. Of this they were well informed. Some of the best friends of the cause which they professed to advance warned them against the ruinous course which they were pursuing; but they scorned to take any advice, and they see the result.

There might be some apology offered for the course they adopted if it were not that they had previously experienced the baneful results of an attempt to divide the party. On almost every occasion on which this attempt has been made, it has resulted in the election of a more obnoxious candidate than the one they sought to defeat. The truth is there is an impression abroad that these "reformers" believe that they have only to issue their mandate and the people will obey it, and ratify any nomination they may make. A good politician knows that it requires long and earnest labor to secure success, yet these men, after inserting a wedge to split the party, fold their arms in luxurious idleness, and actually do nothing for the triumph of the principles they profess to hold. You remark, very correctly, that "faith without works is dead." The result of Tuesday's election, so far as the candidate for Commissioner is concerned, shows that the faith of these men is dead, and that their zeal is not according to knowledge.

You have declared again and again in your columns that the best way to effect a reform is to work within the party. The truthfulness of this declaration has been demonstrated frequently. Every time that an attempt has been made to work reform without the party it has failed. Will these enthusiastic young gentlemen take warning? Will they acknowledge that their will is not supreme in this community? I am as ready to close every tavern as the gentlemen are who have by their impolitic course succeeded in electing a Democratic over a Republican Commissioner. Have they done service to the cause by their action? Far from it. Their candidate was defeated and the man whom they denounced and declared they would not support was elected.

It is to be hoped that the lesson taught them will prove salutary, and that they will see they cannot run counter to the Republican party and succeed. Every effort made by them to disrupt or distract has resulted in the election of a Democrat. I hope, therefore, that they will not be guilty again of juvenile indiscretion such as has marked their conduct on several occasions.

A TEMPERANCE MAN.

Allegheny, October 12th, 1871.

THE PHILADELPHIA RIOT.

Details and Incidents.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

No one wondered when the police, standing in view of their prospective bread and butter, hewed might and main to build up a Babel of fraud and violence, for they had promised of as much, and it was quite in keeping with their record that they should do so. But the city was not quite prepared for all the foulness of bloodshed and brutal force which poured down upon it like a flood. It was known that the police would electioneer, but it was not expected that they would clasp hands with riot and blow angry spirits into law-breaking revolt. This they did. Their clubs clubbed the voters, their hands seized the American citizen in the midst of his free-born rights and hurried him off in terror, and their feet were swift to execute what of villainy and outrage their authorized head had devised. The story of violation and murder is before our readers, and they can read for themselves. We introduce them to the elegy while the pæan is yet ringing in every ear. Citizens shot down in cold blood—American citizens, clad with laws, laid naked to steel; peaceable and inoffensive citizens stopped midway of their gentlest and most harmless avocations to the click of the pistol and the death-whistle of the bullet. We fill the pages of an awful lesson that he who runs may read, and we leave it to the calm perusal of the morrow and the week to come. Here it is:

The voting precinct at the southeast corner of Sixth and Lombard streets was at an early hour besieged by a vast crowd of whites and blacks, the former endeavoring to control the polls and influence the votes of the colored people. Democratic repeaters were numerous, but failed to add many votes to the Democratic balloting. Several unimportant affrays, which at one time threatened to assume colossal proportions, took place between the hours of ten and twelve, growing out of an attempt on the part of the Democratic partisans, aided by about twenty-five police, to monopolize the polls. The affair was magnified, Mayor Fox summoned, and that functionary made his appearance. He addressed the crowd, saying:

I want one and all of you to aid me in maintaining the peace. Let each one try now to evade any show of anger or any disposition to quarrel. Let no such disgraceful scene as that which took place near here last fall again transpire. If you do this, all will have a chance to get in their votes, and each will have the proud satisfaction of knowing that his side is bound to win. Will you help me?

There was a cry of "We will!" from both colors, and then three cheers and a tiger for the Mayor. The latter then ordered ropes to be stretched on a line with the curb around the polls, and ordered his officers to keep the line intact, and permit none but voters to pass within the line of demarcation. This having been done, at eleven o'clock the Mayor, conscious of having done his duty, retraced the steps to his office.

Our readers, who are not acquainted with the doings of Democratic roughs, can have but little idea of the awful character of the scenes at this place. The part of the policemen in the melee has already been adverted to. Indignation cannot find terms severe enough to meet the villainy which was enacted. Here were stationed a gang of policemen of ten or more, the same low characters who, at the division House, Fifth and Lombard streets, a year ago obtained the worst imminence. Here was prominent that bloated and burly officer who was chiefly instrumental last year in collaring, cuffing and beating the colored voters, and driving them away from the polls. He was busy yesterday, with new vigor, in leading the same movements.

Let a colored voter approach the polls and his bleared but piercing eye was upon him in a moment. He followed him about, and when he saw that the citizen was about to poll his vote he was upon him in a moment. In a moment he yelled out, "That fellow has no right to vote; he is a repeater; put the s—— o' a b—— out," and immediately he was at his heels, in a moment he had collared him, his locust was upraised, the voter was jerked away in the most brutal manner, a wicked kick or a desperate throttle administered, and he was hurled into the street reeling and breathless, a marked man, who dare not come again. At the window the sight was one that must give men a blush along with the feeling of the most wordless indignation. A police officer was stationed on each side of the opening, the Republican watchers crowded away in a manner which threatened black-jacking upon resistance, and the two officers of the law stationed there to bully every colored voter away. Here they stood, then, foul calumnies on the elective franchise, full of whisky and the most unscrupulous deviltry. Here comes a colored voter who hopes to get his right and deposite his voice for the cause of justice. Some rough near at hand was ready. "He has no right to vote! Away with the black repeater!" was hailed out of maudlin mouths in all directions. "You can't vote here," says the policeman. The voter remonstrates. It is enough. A dozen hands are on his collar, a dozen black-jacks lift their dusky threats in the poor man's face. "Away with him," is again the cry. Kick, cuff, and strangulation follow, and the voter is hurled across the streets.

Tired with the experience of such wrong as this, hundreds of colored voters stood about in the most sad and hopeless plight, sitting in little knots, wishing for some assistance and getting none. It is not too bold to say, as countless generations of freedmen have said in times past and fought for it, that such foul wrong—the foulest of wrong that a freedman can bear—is a sufficient instigation for resistance. But these defrauded men attempted to do nothing. They merely gathered together as just told, and breathed out their anger into each other's breasts. The indignation accumulated in the human depository, and who can wonder at or blame the fierce spirit of revenge which was created fast at every corner of this distinctively colored quarter?

The unprovoked attack upon the colored men was renewed with increased vigor in the afternoon, and amidst scenes of more awful bloodshed.

THE FIGHT BECOMES GENERAL.

About two o'clock P. M., a negro by the name of Samuel Lewis, well-known and respected in his ward, offered his vote at his proper precinct, when it was not only refused, but he (the negro) was badly beaten and driven from the district. This act created an excitement which most unhappily proved serious throughout the entire afternoon. This was the alarm for a general conflict, and by half past two o'clock, P. M., crowds of people representing every class of politics and every class of color and sex were under the control of their leaders for battle and for right.

The trouble commenced at Eighth and Eveline streets, rapidly spreading along Eighth to South, thence to Ninth, back again to Eighth, thence through the narrow confines of St. Mary street to Seventh and then raging fiercely along Lombard to Sixth. Guns, pistols and knives were freely used in close quarters, while bricks, stones and other missiles were used for longer range. This indiscriminate battle was fought until about 3:15 P. M., when Chief Mulholland arrived with a relief of thirty additional policemen.

Along the entire line of this disturbance houses were attacked, women and children were driven from their homes, property stolen, and homes made desolate. The alleys leading from Sixth, Seventh and Eighth streets were a score of times filled with the aggressor and the defendant. St. Mary and Eveline streets were particularly made the objects of assault.

As Chief Mulholland, at a late hour, appeared on the corner of Sixth and Spruce streets, a brick struck him on the shoulder, and strange to say, the policemen, instead of rushing to the rescue of their captain, fled to within the recesses of a number of buildings within the square. Finally the Chief rallied what number of his braves he could, and attempted to dispel the riot and disperse the rioters. The roughs were too many for the police, and sadly too large in numbers for the poor colored people who were in very close proximity.

Eighteen wounded, more than half of them colored men or women, were taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

A PRESS REPORTER ATTACKED.

At about half-past eleven o'clock yesterday morning, as Mr. William S. Hineline, one of our reporters, was standing in front of the poll, No. 605 Shippen street, peaceably conversing with a friend, he was attacked by a gang of roughs and badly beaten. As they attacked him, one of them said, "I've been laying for you all the morning, you d—d s—n of a b—!" and before our man could defend himself, he was struck violently in the face, and as he staggered back another of the gang hit him behind the ear with a blackjack, while at the same instant another struck him a fearful blow in the eye. The combined attack knocked him to the ground, and the roughs then kicked and trampled on him, cutting him with a knife and preventing him from rising to his feet. He finally became insensible, and the roughs, probably thinking him dead, left him.

The copious bleeding from his numerous wounds revived him in a few minutes, and he was able to rise to his feet and stagger away. He then discovered that he had been robbed of all the money and valuables upon his person. He was kindly cared for by a gentleman residing in the vicinity, and was enabled after a short rest to proceed to his home.

ANOTHER AFFRAY.

Shortly after three o'clock a great crowd of persons gathered at Eighth and Lombard and Eighth and South. A great many policemen were stationed at the corners, some of whom were very much excited, and many were intoxicated.

It was at this time that Mr. Octavius V. Catto, having closed his school, the institute for colored youth at No. 923 Shippen street, was passing down South street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, when he was approached by a white man, and, it is alleged, was openly insulted on the highway. Prof. Catto put his hand behind him as if to draw a pistol, when a car came up and he passed down the street a few paces. Here he was accosted again by the man alluded to, who seemed to know him. He then leveled a pistol at Catto's head, when a female called and said: "Come in here, Professor, or you will be shot."

Catto again advanced and attempted to cross the street, when the assassin leveled his pistol again and shot at him three times. One ball took effect in Catto's left breast, passed through the heart and another struck him in the left shoulder. The first shot caused his death almost instantly. He was soon picked up and carried into the Fifth district station-house, and Dr. William H. Myers was summoned to make an examination. As soon as the surgeon saw him he pronounced Catto fatally hurt. He died soon after reaching the station house and never spoke after he was shot.

Very many of Mr. Catto's friends visited the station house, but were not permitted to see his body until the Coroner could arrive to make his preliminary examination. Among them was a young lady, to whom the deceased was affianced. Her piteous cries and appeals for admission to the room of the dead were really heartrending, and caused all present to weep in sympathy with the heart-broken girl. Mr. Catto was an erudite man and principle of the Quaker Institute for colored youth. He was beloved by all who knew him, and was one of the leaders of his race in this city. He was a short, stout and well formed man, of light mulatto complexion, and was noted for his affability. He was formerly superintendent of the freedmen's school at Washington, and was very much admired by General Grant, who had tendered him several foreign missions. He was very peaceful in his life, and fell a martyr to the petty spite of an ignoble partisan. Mr. Catto was a soldier, and held the position of major and aid-de-camp to General Louis Wagner, commander of the 5th Brigade, 1st Division, of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Mr. Greener, a teacher in the institute with Professor Catto, informed the reporter of the Press that the fight commenced, in the region named, at nine o'clock yesterday morning, when a man named Thomas Moran fired three shots at a colored man named Murray, near Tenth and Bainbridge streets, and ran after him with the threat that he would kill the d— b— s— of a b—. Mr. Greener asked an officer to arrest Moran, but this was refused, as the officer said Moran was a special policeman.

Later than this the people occupying stores in the region named were obliged to close their places of business to save them from destruction.

At about half-past one o'clock in the afternoon a white man known as "Reddy" approached a colored man named Isaac Chase, while he was standing on his own doorstep in Emmeline street, between Eighth and Ninth, and absolutely knocked his brains out in the presence of his wife and children, causing his instant death. In neither of these cases were any arrests made, and the police acted as though they were in league with the outlaws or else afraid of them.

Octavius V. Catto.

The Philadelphia Press says: As if to complete the title to the condemnation of the whole community, a Democratic ruffian yesterday, in the broad and bright October afternoon, deliberately assassinated Octavius V. Catto, one of the most accomplished genlemen in this city. Mr. Catto will be remembered as the gifted chief of our Colored High School. Beloved by his own race, and respected by others who enjoyed the honor of his acquaintance, he was an example to all men. Called to the city of Washington to organize the schools of the freedmen in the District of Columbia, two years ago, his people of Philadelphia insisted upon his return to take charge of their educational interests, and he left, if possible, a higher sphere to come back to those who loved him best. The writer of these lines knew him the well, and especially his high honor, his sensitive self-respect, his rare gifts of intellect, and his earnest and passionate Republicanism. As he fell under the bullet of the assassin without provocation, so he died without reproach. He was the unquestioned victim of the mob spirit which yesterday attempted to dominate the First Congressional district. He could not have offended by his walk in life, but he did offend because he believed in his race and in the great principles of that party which has always championed it. And for this couse he died.

WE find the following, relating to a subject that is engaging much attention, in the Boston Daily Advertiser: "We understand that Mr. Laurence Meyers, of Philadelphia, has submitted to the commission lately appointed by the state of New York to 'Foster and develop the internal commerce of the State,' an ingenious method of protecting the banks of the canals and of increasing their usefulness. Mr. Myers proposes to clothe the sides of the banks of canals with say one-eighth of an inch sheet iron, securely fastened and suspended equi-distance above and below the water line, thus preventing all damage. He further claims that, by such action, the entire canal property of the country can be brought into active and competing operations with railroads, as fast running steam propellers will be introduced and substituted for the slow and expensive mule power. The tonnage, too, will be increased at least three times. Canal companies and shippers should unite, consider and test Mr. Myers' plan at once. We would also suggest that the New York State Commission should have their law amended and insert, that to the inventer of the fastest (200 ton) and most economical running boat they will give a premium of $25,000. The iron manufacturers of Pennsylvania and New York will no doubt become largely interested in this important enterprise.—Philadelphia Record.

THE SUBLIME AND BEAUTIFUL.

No grander or more sublime subject can engage the attention of man than such an one as tends to the amelioration of suffering and pain.

The cure of Consumption, not only in its incipiency, but in its advanced stages, has been cured by DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE. Sometimes the Lung Cure will do this alone; it will always do good. Sometimes the Doctor supplies other medicines with it to meet peculiar indications of the system. In his large medicine establishment are to be found all the fine medicines known, and an experience of nearly half a century has enabled the doctor to know how to use them.

Being a graduate of two schools of medicine, to which he has added over twenty-five years of experience, together with a daily reading and practice in chronic diseases, with special attention to those of the lungs, it would be a matter of wonder if he did not know the treatment of such cases to a more than ordinary extent. His pamphlet on chronic lung diseases, sent free whenever it is ordered, discourses more fully upon the subject than could be allowed in any newspaper article. Where your druggist does not keep Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, 4 bottles will be sent by express for $5. Single bottles $1.50 at the Doctor's Medical Office, 167 Liberty street. Office hours from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M., and Saturday's at night until 9.

Help! help! cries the blood, I am impure. I know it, says the skin, for I am covered with blotches, pimples and sores. Bring up the Samaritan's Root and Herb Juices.

THE WARNING HAS BEEN HEEDED.

Since the exposure of the attempts made by certain unscrupulous local dealers, to palm off their coarse astringents, made from cheap and impure materials, in the place of the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, public opinion has set strongly against these empirics and their preparations. Their occupation is gone, or soon will be. When the light is let into deception it soon wilts down. Persons who trifle with their own health, by using unknown preparations, with no guarantee to sustain them when an established specific, proven by twenty years experience to be exactly what it is claimed to be, is within their reach, are sure to repent their temerity. Many have done so in this instance, but it is hoped that the truth plainly spoken has arrested this evil. In the meantime the demand for the leading protective and restorative medicine of America was never so great as it has been this season. From the fever and ague districts of the West, South-west, and South, it is literally overwhelming, and it may be said of the advices from all parts of the country of the cures it is effecting in dyspepsia, bilious complaints, and chronic constipation, that "their name is legion." Everywhere the sick and feeble seem to have realized the importance of "holding fast that which is good," and of avoiding what is spurious and dangerous.

CONVERTING
U. S. Five-Twenties

Messrs. JAY COOKE & CO. have issued the following financial circular relative to the general conditions of the loan market, and the exchanging of Government bonds for Railroad securities:

OFFICE OF JAY COOKE & CO.,
PHILADELPHIA, September, 1871.

The signal success of the New Five Per Cent. Government Loan foreshadows the early funding of the entire debt at a less rate than 6 per cent., and indicates that the average rate of interest on loanable capital in this country will henceforward be considerably lower than it has been, the tendency being to an equalization of rates between America and Europe.

In view of these facts, the present holders of United States Five-Twenties must decide whether it is not best to make at once such a change of investment as will enable them to realize as profit, or add to their capital, the present average premium of 14 per cent. on Five-Twenties, while at the same time largely increasing their annual income.

Holders of Five-Twenties of the issues of 1862 which, under the recent announcement of the Secretary of the Treasury, will be paid off in December next, have special and immediate reason to consider the question of conversion, unless they wish to receive coin for their Five-Twenties, or exchange them at par for bonds of the new issue, bearing an average rate of 4½ per cent.

To all holders of United States securities who wish to take advantage of the present most favorable opportunity for changing their investment at a large profit we strongly recommend Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties (principal and interest payable in gold,) now selling at par in currency. The results already accomplished in the construction and equipment of nearly Three Hundred Miles of road, and the rapid development of the adjacent country, have established the permanency and success of the Northern Pacific enterprise, and created a large and rapidly increasing demand for the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. With their high rate of interest, ample security, and their convertability into the Lands of the Company at 10 per cent. premium, they constitute a most desirable investment, and can hardly fail to advance considerably above par at an early day.

The holder of a $1000 Five-Twenty bond who exchanges it now for Northern Pacifics, thereby increases his principal by 14 per cent., receiving $1140 in Northern Pacifics for $1000 in Five-Twenties. He also permanently increases the yearly interest income on his investment more than 38 per cent., or from $60.00 in gold to $83.22 in gold.

Funds invested in Five-Twenties at their present premium, yield 5¼ per cent. interest in gold or 5 9-10 in currency. Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties yield 7 3-10 per cent. in gold or 8½ in currency.

These most unusual opportunities for the profitable conversion of Government Bonds into Corporate Securities of undoubted reliability, cannot, in the nature of the case, long continue. The increasing abundance of loanable capital both at home and abroad; the almost certain rise in value of all desirable railroad mortgages, the rapid absorption of Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties and the probable early substitution of a six per cent. bond for the remainder of the Northern Pacific loan, and the early funding of the remainder of the National Debt at lower rates, promise very soon to change the entire aspect of the loan market, which is just now so peculiarly favorable to investors.

This state of things suggests prompt action on the part of those who wish to exchange securities in time to profit by the present high premium on Five-Twenties.

Finance and Trade.

NEW YORK, October 12, 1871.

Gold opened steady at 114 and advanced to and closed at 114⅛ on a sale of only one million by the Government. Loans were made at from 3 per cent. per annum to 3-16 per cent. per day for use. Clearances $55,000,000. There were twenty-four bids for Government gold, $3,110,000 at from 113.37½ to 114.40. Awards $1,000,000 at from 114.08 to 114.40. The selling of investment securities by insurance companies continues, and this was the cause of the decline of 1 to 2½ per cent. in Government bonds to-day. The market at the close showed some recovery from the lowest point of the day. The rally was partly due to a report that the Government intended to make an extra purchase of bonds this week. The stock market was excited, and prices in some instances declined 6 per cent., owing to reports circulated that at least four banks had commenced among the park laborers. These false reports succeeded in producing a panic. At times there was a great pressure. Sales and dealings were enormous, while the excitement was equal to anything ever witnessed on the Stock Exchange. Late in the day, when it became generally known that the reported bank failures and riots were fabrications, there was quite a recovery in prices from the lowest point. The easing up in the money market at the close had a tendency to strengthen prices. The greatest decline was in Western Union, Lake Shore, Pacific Mail, Rock Island, Reading, Ohio and North Western common. Money irregular. The leading houses were accomodated at 7 currency and 7 gold, while at the close borrowers paid ½ to ¾ for turning stocks. After bank hours the market became very easy. Call loans dropped to 4 per cent. after the brokers were fully supplied. The latest rate was 6@7 currency. Secretary Boutwell says he will do all he can to relieve the stringency of the money market during the present condition of affairs. Southern States securities were dull and heavy this afternoon, with a marked decline in new South Carolinas.

—The New Orleans Picayune speaks encouragingly of business as follows:

"The commercial year 1871-2 opened Sept. 1, under very favorable auspices, and the movement for the first month, which closed Saturday last, proved eminently satisfactory. Importers and jobbers had laid in unusually heavy stocks of all goods suitable to the market, believing that the demand would be coextensive with the supply. Last year's cotton crop having proved far in excess of all estimates, planters and country merchants found themselves at its close in much better pecuniary condition than they had anticipated, despite some falling off in the price of the staple; and this is clearly shown by the heavy purchases of luxuries, as well as necessaries, in our market during the month of September. Rarely, if ever, has the aggregate movement been excelled for the period of the season referred to, and notwithstanding the jealousy and efforts of neighboring cities to divert our legitimate trade, everyone looks for continued heavy operations throughout the year. It is true the growing crop of the leading staple is likely to show a heavy deficit, as compared with that of last year, but indications are satisfactory that the loss in quantity will be more than made up by the increase in price. The sugar crop proves to be a full one; that of rice exhibits a reduction, but there is a large gain in corn and other breadstuffs, which will enable our friends in the interior to get along without sending West the proceeds of their crops, &c., to buy provisions. Our jobbers, importers, and general merchants were never better prepared to transact a heavy business, nor in better condition to extend to their patrons all needful facilities, while the plethora of currency held by the banks and the liberality with which their various directories are ever ready to aid the business community are a sure guarantee that we shall have no short-comings to report in any department hereafter.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, October 12, 1871. }

ASHES—Common Soda ash, 4 cts; refined do, 4½@4¾; Pearls, 9½; Pots, 7½; Nitrate Soda, 4½@4¾.

APPLES—The receipts continue fair but with a steady demand there is no accumulation of stock and prices are well maintained; $2,50@3,00 per bbl for fair to good, and $3,50 for prime.

BUTTER—There is no improvement in the demand and no falling off in the receipts and the market continues dull and weak and prices drooping; good to prime roll 18@20. Common butter is a complete drug; the market is glutted and there is but very little inquiry for it.

BROOM CORN—Is considerably firmer and somewhat excited in consequence of the report that a large proportion of the western crop has been destroyed by the fire at Chicago, and prices are higher.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 30@33c.

BEANS—Prime Navy quoted at $2,00@2,25 per bushel.

CORN MEAL—Is very quiet and the demand is mainly of a retail character; may be quoted in small lots at 85@90 cts per bushel.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@3,00 per bbl. Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,25@4,50.

CIDER—The market is quiet and unchanged at $4@8 per bbl.

CANNED FRUITS—Quiet and unchanged.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of Jersey cultivated at $11 per bbl. and Sackett's Belle Berries at $17@18.

CHEESE—Is reported steady but unchanged; New York Goshen, 15½@16; Ohio Goshen, 15@15½; Factory, 14@14½; Dairy, 13@13½.

CHESTNUTS—Again reported dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand and we reduce our quotations to $4@4,25 per bushel.

CARBON OIL—Is firm but without quotable change; standard brands, 23@23½ in car load lots—usual advance in a small way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is considerable inquiry for Peaches (prime halves) and we are reported sales at 9½@10 cts. Quarters quoted at 7@7½; mixed 8@8½. Nothing doing in apples—our market as yet is bare.

EGGS—Continue firm and prices are fully maintained, notwithstanding the arrivals are on the increase. We are reported sales at 28, 29 and 30 cts.

FLOUR—Is firm and higher with an improved demand—we advance our quotations 25 cts per bbl. Good to choice red winter wheat $7,25@7,50; good spring extras, $7,00@7,25; choice (old) Minnesota flour, $7,75. The receipts are fair but the supply is not much if any above the usual average, and dealers are now realizing a handsome margin on flour contracted for one week ago.

GRAIN—Wheat is in limited supply, and there is a steady milling demand but no change to make in quotations, $1,45@1,47 for red and $1,50@1,52 for white. Dealers allege that, at present prices, there is no margin whatever, and this accounts mainly for the very limited arrivals. Oats, firm, in demand and higher; we advance our quotations to 44@45 for mixed, and 46@47 for white—sale 1 car white at 46½. The indications at this writing are that the top has not yet been reached, and holders generally are indifferent sellers, even at the advance, being apprehensive that they cannot replace at present prices. Corn is scarce and firm, but not quotably higher; shelled, in bulk, by the car load, 71@72; there is considerable en route for this market, and some dealers anticipate an easier market within the next few days. Rye is reported firm, with sales of western at 90@92. Barley is in better demand but unchanged; 80@85 for fair to prime spring, and 85@90 for fall; sale 4 cars No. 1 spring, (western) at 85.

GROCERIES—Coffees continue very stiff and somewhat excited, and we again advance our quotations; it is supposed that a considerable amount was destroyed in Chicago by the fire, and, as it will have to be replaced, the demand at the seaboard will be increased, and a still further appreciation is not improbable—it looks now as if it would not stop this side of 20 cts. in gold. Sugars continue quiet and weak, though there is no quotable change to note in prices.

SUGARS—Refined—Standard Hards, 13¾; A. 13; B, 12¾; Ex. C, 12⅝; C. Yellow, 12⅛, Porto Rico Sugars—Choice, 11½; Prime, 11; Good, 10¾. Cuba Sugars, 10¾@11. Demarara, 12¼@12¾. Sugar House Sugars—Knight's Extra C. Yellow, 11¾; C. C. 11½; other grades, 9@11. New Orleans Sugars—None in market.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 23; Prime, 22; Good, 21; Fair, 20@20½. Java, 25@28. Laguayra, 19@20. Mocha, 45. Roasted Coffee, pure, 24@25. Lower grades, 22@23.

SYRUPS—Havemyer & Elder's, 75. White Honey, 75. Lovering's, 60. Durant's, 75. Brune's, 75; other grades, 48@60. New Orleans Molasses, 60@68.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¾; Good, 9½; Fair, 8¾. Rangoon, 8@8½. Patna, 8.

SPICES—Pepper, 22. Allspice, 18. Cassia, 50. Cloves, 20. Nutmegs, $1,30.

HONEY—Steady at 25@30 cts per lb.

HIDES—Green Salted, 10½@11½; Green Butcher's, 8; Dry Flint, 21@22; Green Calf Skins, 14@15; Green Salted Calf, 17@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2½@2¾ cts.

HEMP—Quoted at $165 per ton.

HAY—Baled is reported steady, with sales, on wharf and track, at $23@25 per ton, for fair to prime.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2,00@2,25 per bbl; Cleveland $2,25; Eastern, $1,75.

MILL FEED—Is quoted in a jobbing way, at $22@23 per ton for Brad; $24@26 for Seconds; $34@36 for Middlings, and $44@45 for Oil Meal.

ONIONS—Sales, in small lots, at $2,50@3,25 per bbl, according to quality—market slow.

OIL—Lard Oil may be quoted at 71@72 for round lots, and 75@78 in a small way.

POTATOES—Are coming in more freely, but, as yet, the stock is not large and prices remain unchanged, 60@65 per bushel. Sweets cannot be fairly quoted above $3,00@3,25 per bbl.

POULTRY—Live chickens quoted at 50@55 cts per pair, by the coop.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulders, 7½@7¾; ribbed sides, 8@8½; short ribbed sides, 8½@8¾; clear sides, 9@9½; sugar cured shoulders, 10@10½; Breakfast Bacon, 11@11½; sugar cured Hams, 16@17. Prime kettle Lard, in tcs, 10@10½. Canvassed Dried Beef, 18@18½. Mess Pork, $14@14½.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is dull and nominal at $3,00@3,25. Clover Seed, quiet and nominal at $6,75@7,00, Flaxseed unchanged at $1,80@1,85.

SUMAC—Sales Tennessee Sumac at 4½ cts.

WILLOWS—Quoted firm at 10 cts.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY October 12, 1871. }

The petroleum market continues very dull, with but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. There seems to be little or no inquiry, either for present or future delivery, and we have not a single sale to record; refiners, having most of their old contracts filled, would like to make some new ones, for any or all of the remaining months of 1871, but there is no profit, at present quotations, and this is the main cause for the stagnation which has characterized our market for some time past.

CRUDE.

Parker quoted at $4,67@4,70; there is not much inquiry at the quotations.

REFINED.

Is reported weak and lower. October, quoted in New York at 24@24¼; and spot at 23¾.

OIL BARRELS.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, October 12.—The dry goods market is devoid of activity yet prices rule uniform. The attention of the trade is generally diverted to the Chicago disaster, and merchants and clerks alike are more engaged in devising means to alleviate the sufferings of the people of that city than in any effort to force sales in dry goods.

RIVER NEWS.

The recent rains as yet have had no perceptible influence on the river at this point, and no rise of any consequence can reasonably be expected. Telegrams from Oil City report 12 inches in the channel at that point, and dispatches from Brownsville and Greensboro, do not give the slightest encouragement in regard to water. The weather has turned quite cold—no rain since Wednesday night, and but little prospect last evening of any more soon.

—The Memphis Avalanche, of Sunday, says: Some time ago the steamer DesArc was dismantled at this port, and her three huge steam boilers were left on the river bank at the foot of Washington street. The other day Messrs. Elliott & Miller, who are owners of the boilers, noticed, much to their surprise, that one was missing, and diligent search has so far failed to trace its whereabouts. Tales are often told of folks having a mania for picking up small things, and of successfully reducing the business to science. Articles like red-hot stoves and the like have been known to disappear in a mysterious and incomprehensible manner, but the idea of successfully snaking off an iron boiler nearly 40 feet long, and weighing several tons, is something in the way of theft that caps anything yet recorded.

Deck hands on steamers from this port are now receiving $50 per month, and levee laborers are in active demand at from 35 to 40 cents an hour. The Cheek was obliged to pay as high as 60 cents one day last week. An influx of labor from cooler latitudes would be a good thing all round just now.

—A Memphis special to the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of Tuesday, says: Passengers down from the Virginia this morning, report that she struck a snag about 10 o'clock Saturday night, opposite the head of Island 21, 120 miles above here. She had on board near 100 deck, and 80 cabin passengers, including 20 ladies. She went down in less than two minutes, the people barely having time to get on a barge, she had alongside. An orphan lad was the only person lost. She had the biggest trip ever on board, the freight list alone footing up near $9,000. Her captain had congratulated himself upon being below the dangerous part of the river only a few moments before she struck. Wm. Flowers was the pilot on watch. She is settling forward, and is likely to prove a total loss. Insurance risks on her hull are said to foot up $24,000. The packets from below this morning report the Yeager and Shannon, and other boats over the worst places, and either getting along well or awaiting daylight. Fogs, low water, and intricate navigation knock all of out local packets out of time. The river is still declining, with scant 5½ feet in the channel below.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Monday, says: Henry Adkins is repairing on or at the docks the steamers Fontenelle, Katie Keiser, and Silver Bow. A disinterested spectator saw Henry do in one day lately what he thinks never was done in the West before, in the way of docking. On that day he took off the big Belle Lee. Henry Adkins is a go-ahead fellow, He is from Cincinnati. The fact may explain his lightning rapidity.

—The New Orleans Picayune, of Saturday, says: The propeller Beaufort, running to Lower Coast, sank on last Tuesday, during the storm, opposite the Sunrise Mill. We learn from the officers of the Marcella that the Beaufort will be a total loss. There were no lives lost. We did not learn whether the Beafort will be a total loss. There were no lives lost. We did not learn whether the Beaufort was insured or not.

—D. C. Hill, a well known boat-builder, and Stephen Stuckey, met on Main street, in New Albany, early yesterday morning, and had a dispute in relation to foreclosing a mortgage held by Hill & Hewitt. Stuckey denounced it as a swindle, and drawing a revolver discharged two shots, one striking the top of Hill's head and the other cutting his left fore finger. Stuckey got into the skiff and crossed the river. Hill is not dangerously wounded. The grand jury has the matter in hand.

—A Little Rock correspondent says: I have conversed with several of my old steamboat friends, among them Capt. Rees Pritchard, of the Pat. Cleburne, Capt. Sam. Houston, U. S. Inspector, and his brother, Capt. Matt. Houston, and I find they all agree with me in predicting an extreme low water season in this river.

—The Mollie Moore, from New Orleans, arrived at Memphis, on Tuesday. She helped the Yeager over Walnut Bend. The Glencoe also passed Memphis the same day en route for St. Louis.

—Capt. M. S. Anderson and Wm. Shannon, on Monday morning, each sold one sixth of the New Richmond Belle to Catharine Anderson for $1,000 for the third.

—Capt. Story's new boat has been towed up to Hambleton's yard to be painted. She is a splendid boat—very strong and well built.

—The United States Marshal of Kentucky has charge of the Leonidas for a coal debt due from the former to Horner, Wood & Co.

—The Armadillo has quit the U. S. Mail Line; but two steamers leave Cincinnati each day for Louisville.

—The Exchange is to be withdrawn from the Cincinnati and Maysville trade soon.

—Capt. Tiff Strider on Monday, bought the little circus boat Dixie for $1,000.

—The Andes is laid up.

HOME NEWS.

Lawrence [illegible] in Saratoga.

A Special Meeting of Councils to consider an Act of Assembly, will be held on Saturday, the 14th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M.

The attention of buyers is called in to-day's paper to the advertisement of Geo. B. Hill. The lands will no doubt advance in price rapidly, and are all that is represented.

Brick Warehouse at Auction.—On Seventh (late Irwin) street, on the premises to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. See McIlwaine's auction advertisement.

Connellsville Route.—We will publish to-morrow a new Time Table for the various trains on the Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington Railway, to go into effect from and after Monday the 16th inst.

A Free Excursion Train will leave the Connellsville depot at 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow, for the sale of sixty-eight lots near Laughlin Station and Frankstown. See McIlwaine's auction advertisement for description of this valuable property.

No Risks.—An advertisement appears in our columns this morning, stating that the Delaware Mutual Safety Insurance Company, at Philadelphia, of which P. A. Madeira Esq., is agent in this city, had no risks in Chicago. We learn also that this company some time ago declined to open an agency in that city, owing to the belief that the risks there, were extra hazardous. They are certainly fortunate. This company is one of the soundest in the country, and is eminently deserving of patronage.

The Central Ticket Office of the Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company, hitherto in the Dispatch building, will be removed on the 16th inst. to the company's new office, leased and fitted up for the purpose, at the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. No location in the city could be found more eligible or convenient, as well for the public as the company. Another local point of interest has thus been made on Smithfield street, which, with the exception of Fifth avenue, has within a few years become the most crowded and busy of our busy thoroughfares.

Ætna Insurance Company.

The following telegram has been received by the agent in this city:

S. S. Carrier, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Losses at Chicago less than two million dollars. Will be promptly paid, leaving capital and surplus over four million dollars.

L. J. Hendee,
President.

The School Demonstration To-day.

The school demonstration to-day promises to be one of the most imposing ever held here. As showing the interest taken in it, the Forbes Schools (Sixth ward) will turn out no less than four hundred pupils. The directors have provided beautiful badges, which each one that participates will be allowed to keep as a memento of the day. We regret to learn that some of the teachers in several of the districts decline to turn out.

Dedication of the Central High School.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13TH.

Forenoon.—Procession of pupils of Ward Schools to form on Wood street and proceed to the High School building, where they will be addressed by Rev. J. D. Herr and Wm. T. Beaty.

Afternoon, 2:30 o'clock.—Addresses by W. D. Moore, Esq., Andrew Burtt, Judge Kirkpatrick, Geo. J. Luckey, and others.

Evening 7:30 o'clock—Addresses by H. B. Swoope, Esq., R. M. Fulton, Jacob H. Miller and others.

Brilliant Wedding.

Last night, at the palatial residence of the bride's parents, in Monongahela borough, T. W. Davis, Esq., United States Collector for this district, was united in matrimony to Miss Sue M. Beck, daughter of John Beck, Esq., General Superintendent of the massive Clinton Rolling Mills. There were several hundred invited guests in attendance to witness the ceremony. The presents were heavy—fully five thousand dollars' worth of silver and gold ware occupied the tables of offerings. The happy couple have our heartiest congratulations. May they live long and prosper. After marriage they left for New York, from whence they will make a tour through Canada and come home via Niagara Falls.

The Franklin Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

The gratifying fact appears by the advertisement of this veteran old Philadelphia Insurance Company, so long a favorite of this city, that after providing for a loss of $500,000 by the Chicago fire, she still offers her policy holders the security of $2,700,000, and that all her heavy losses will be paid without disturbing any of her securities.

We congratulate Messrs. Coffin & Kellogg, the company's agents for this city, upon being able to make such an exhibition after such a loss. The institution has been established for more than forty years, and in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and elsewhere, has a record of very many losses equitably and promptly adjusted and paid. May it live long and prosper.

The Baltimore Excursion.

The Council Committee on the Baltimore excursion met at the Mayor's office yesterday morning. All the committee were present. It was suggested by the committee that the members of City Councils who intend visiting Baltimore, will call at 96 Fourth avenue, to-day, (Friday) morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, and register their names. All members of councils whose names are not registered in accordance with the above notice will be considered as declining the invitation for Baltimore.

The committee also suggested that the mayor furnish a sufficient police force at the depot on Tuesday morning, to see that only those parties who are named on the invitation will be allowed upon the train.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis Iron Improvement Company.

This Company is being organized under the general manufacturing laws of Pennsylvania, for testing, operating and introducing certain improvements in grates and furnaces for consuming and utilizing the sooty matter of coal, and also improvements in blast furnaces for making iron and steel direct from the ore. The shares (2,100 at ten dollars each) are nearly all taken by practical workmen in the iron works of the city and neighborhood, and active operations will be commenced on the return of the General Manager (Mr. John A. Stearns) from St. Louis. Liberal offers for locating the works convenient to land and coal privileges have been made and, the directors and officers will meet at their office, Room 8, First National Bank building, on Monday evening, 16th inst., to consider these offers and prepare for future operations. The character and occupation of the men who have taken stock in this Company and the large experience and practical knowledge of those who comprise its first Board of Directors amount almost to a guarantee that the Company will prove a complete success.

Parties desiring to secure the few remaining shares of capital stock may do so at or before the meeting on Monday evening by calling on the Secretary, C. A. Burrows, at the Labor Exchange.

The Very Latest Returns

show that Taylor and Farley are so far in advance of all other candidates for the honor of making the most perfect and purely voiced organ, that it has ceased to be a disputed question, as everybody award them the palm, and unite in pronouncing them the most perfect and evenly-voiced, the most durable, and least liable to get out of order, and withal the cheapest Organ sold in Pittsburgh. In proof of this we can refer you to scores of churches and individuals, in and about this city who have been using the Taylor & Farley Organ from ten to twenty years, and have not cost one cent for repairs in that time, and to the thousands who have bought them in the last ten years, and to the community at large who are buying them every day, and to the great number of people who are exchanging their instruments for the Taylor & Farley, we would therefore earnestly advise every body about to purchase an instrument, to call on S. Hamilton & Co., who are the sole agents for these superior instruments, and you can depend on getting a bargain in either a Piano or Organ, as they guarantee to sell a better Piano or Organ for less money than anywhere else in the city. Every instrument they sell is fully warranted, and on their new installment plan everybody can now buy themselves a Piano or Organ. Remember the place is Mendelssohn Quintette Club.

Last evening this celebrated Boston club gave their first concert at Library Hall to a select, but not very large audience. The recent sad calamity of our sister city of Chicago doubtless had much to do in preventing a larger attendance, as the interest of almost our entire community has been for the past few days centered on this subject. It is indeed unfortunate, for this really fine performance would otherwise have drawn a large audience. The concert, we need hardly say, was superb, each artist acquitting himself with much credit. The programme consisted of the following selections:

1—Overture. "La Sirene," Auber; 2—Recitative and air, "Dove Sono," from The Marriage of Figaro, Mozart, Mrs. J. W. Weston. 3—Caprice for Flute, Terschack, Edward Heindl. 4—"Intermezzo," Cantabile from the Quintette in A. op 18, Mendelssohn; 5—First Fantasie for Clarinette, Ryan, Thomas Ryan. PART II—6—English Ballad, "Who's at my Window," Osburn, Mrs. J. W. Weston. 7—Symphonic Concertante for two violins, Alard, Messrs. Schultze and Meisel. 8—Scherzo from the Scotch Symphony, Mendelssohn; arranged for quintette. 9—"Child's Prayer." Song transcribed for Violoncello, Batta, Wulf Fries. 10—English Ballad, "Since Yesterday," Ganz, Mrs. J. W. Weston. 11—Selection from "Le Prophete," Meyerbeer.

The Club will give another and final concert to-night, when we hope to see a much larger attendance. We can promise all who go a rich treat, and one that is seldom to be enjoyed.

Bishop Kerfoot's Appeal.

It will be seen by the following circular that our good Bishop although absent in a distant city, on official duty, is not unmindful of the claims of a stricken and suffering community, but appeals to his clergy and their congregations to give liberally and promptly for the love of God. We trust the response will be as prompt and liberal as the appeal is earnest and heartfelt. EDS.

House of Bishops, Baltimore,
Tuesday, October 10, 1871.

To the Clergy and Congregations of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pittsburgh:

My Beloved Brethren:—God has smitten a city made very near to us by our railroad travel with a calamity unequalled in the history of our country. Destitution and suffering, beyond any power of ours to conceive, must at once ensue. Relief must go at once to be of any use. It must be large and generous to be efficient. You need, and I can add, no words that would enforce the claim of our suffering fellow-citizens. I urge prompt action.

I request that collections be made in all our congregations on Sunday next, the 15th inst., or on Sunday the 22d, or better yet, on both days, and the offerings sent to Malcolm Hay, Esq., No. 80 Fourth avenue, or to Joseph H. Hill, Esq., Cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, Pittsburgh, corner of Wood street and Sixth avenue. These gentlemen are requested to receive such offerings and to forward them immediately to the agencies appointed by the suffering people of Chicago.

And I request the newspapers in Pittsburgh, and throughout the twenty-four western counties that compose the Diocese of Pittsburgh, to give one or more insertions to this appeal.

"God loveth a cheerful giver."

Faithfully your servant,
John B. Kerfoot,
Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh.

RELIEF FOR CHICAGO.

The Good Work Goes On—Generous Responses on all Hands—The Ladies Making Earnest Efforts—Feeding the Destitute in Our Own City—The Feeling in Allegheny—What They are Doing Across the River—Scenes and Incidents.

The feeling of sympathy for the people of the great city so suddenly laid waste by the devouring element has not yet abated, and from all sides donations and contributions continue to pour in to the committees appointed to take charge of the same. Almost every class and profession among our citizens have taken organized action to aid the efforts of the general committee, and the work of yesterday was fully equal to that of any preceding day.

THE TRUSTEES' MEETING

was held yesterday morning at ten o'clock at the Mayor's office:

The announcement was made that dispatches had been received, urging now that supplies of money, clothing, bedding, blankets, &c., be sent to the people in Chicago, rather than provisions, as abundance of those having been received for the present.

In response to some inquiries made, it was suggested that those desiring to contribute instead of purchasing clothing, blankets, &c., hand the money to the Trustees, who will deliver it to the committee of ladies. The ladies will be able to purchase at better advantage than others. But those having clothing, bedding, blankets, &c., on hand, are urged to lose no time in contributing as liberally as they may be able.

THEATRICAL RECEIPTS.

The following letter was read from Mr. Ellsler:

PITTSBURGH, PA., October 10, 1871.

TO HIS HONOR, MAYOR BRUSH—DEAR SIR: At this moment, when a mighty but a sorrowing nation weeps over the calamity that has just befallen a great and prosperous city, producing misery and suffering, worse than death itself among thousands of people, whose interest and welfare is part and parcel of our own happiness and our very existence, it is not to be wondered at, that every hand and heart longs to tender some assistance, relief and comfort in this lamentable extremity.

Therefore permit us, among the many, to tender our humble mite towards the universal good. We shall be happy, if your Honor, or such parties as are authorized to raise funds for the relief of the suffering citizens of Chicago will accept the offer of our services in the shape of a benefit at the New Pittsburgh Opera House, to be given on Wednesday afternoon, at a matinee that may be fixed hereafter.

Our present Star, Lawrence Barrett, Esq., and every member of the Company, the attaches of the House, the members of the orchestra, &c., &c., &c., cheerfully propose their gratuitous services on such an occasion, and it will only remain for the kind hearted and benevolent citizens to make the benefit worthy of their well-known and liberal reputation. The entire receipts of the occasion will be donated.

Most respectfully your humble servant, &c.
JOHN A. ELLSLER, JR.
Lessee and Manager of the New Pittsburgh Opera House.

The offer was accepted and a vote of thanks tendered Manager Ellsler: no time specified.

It was stated by the Mayor that the managers of the other theatres and some of the musical and literary associations had made similar offers.

On motion, Messrs. James P. Barr, Ralph Bagaly and Robert Pitcairn were appointed a Committee on Benefits, to arrange with theatrical managers and associations for benefits.

A PITTSBURGH DEPOT.

The following resolution was offered by J. Harvey Jones.

Resolved, In order to establish a systematic means of dispensing the funds, &c., collected in our district for Chicago, that a committee of three be appointed by the Mayor, who shall go to Chicago, and in conjunction with the Mayor of that city shall establish a depot (to be known as the "Pittsburgh Depot") for the distribution of supplies and other materials collected in our locality for the needy sufferers in Chicago.

The resolution was carried and the following gentlemen appointed: J. Harvey Jones, Wm. Douglass, W. P. Weyman, Robert H. Hartley and Thomas Phelps.

[As it was apprehended by some of our citizens that this proceeding might be construed to imply a distrust of the authorities of Chicago, we are glad to have the authority of Mr. J. Harvey Jones, the mover of the resolution and chairman of the Committee, deputed to visit Chicago, for saying that it is not intended by means of the "Pittsburgh Depot" in that city to supercede or in any way interfere with its municipal authorities or prudential committees of citizens, but to confer with and aid them, if possible, and further, to learn on the spot, what is most needed and communicate correct information to the press and people of Pittsburgh. This appears to us to be perfectly proper, and from Mr. Jones and his colleagues on the committee, our people may feel sure that none but judicious action will be had, and good and reliable advice will be transmitted.—EDS.]

"HEARTFELT THANKS" FROM CHICAGO.

The following dispatch which had just been received, was then read:

CHICAGO, October 12, 1871.

HON. JARED M. BRUSH, Mayor of Pittsburgh:

In the name and on the behalf of the tens of thousands of our houseless and suffering victims of the great calamity which has befallen our city, I send you thanks, heartfelt thanks, for the generous donation of your great city. The fire has ceased, order again reigns, and our people are no longer demoralized but are full of courage and energy to meet the struggle that now awaits them.

Respectfully,
R. B. MASON, Mayor.

It was decided to hold daily meetings of the Committee hereafter at ten o'clock at the Mayor's office.

Adjourned.

The ladies will have another meeting at the rooms of the Young Mens' Christian Association this afternoon at two o'clock, and a full attendance of all interested in the work is earnestly solicited.

CLEARING HOUSE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Association was held at ten o'clock this morning, at which a large majority of the banking institutions were represented, and also a majority of the committee of bank officers appointed at the meeting held at Mayor's office on yesterday. The following was adopted, to wit:

"Resolved, That all the banks and bankers in the Clearing House Association submit to their respective Boards to-day, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the subject of contributing to the fund for the relief of the Chicago sufferers, and that they pay over such amounts as they may determine so to contribute to John Harper, Esq., he having been appointed Treasurer of the Bank Committee; and also that each bank be requested to ask such banks and bankers not in the Association as clear through it, to make like contributions and pay same to the Treasurer above named."

F. VAN BONNHORST,
Manager and Secretary.

TO BANKS, BANKERS AND MONEYED ASSOCIATIONS.

At the meeting held in the Mayor's office, on Wednesday, the undersigned were appointed a Committee, by the Trustees of the Fund for the aid and relief of the sufferers of the Chicago fire, to call upon "moneyed institutions and all who deal in money" and solicit from them contributions for the general fund to aid Chicago sufferers. We organized, and appointed John Harper, President of the Bank of Pittsburgh, our Treasurer.

He is authorized to receive the sums contributed by the various institutions and associations whose aid is solicited. We earnestly request and urge that all concerned in this appeal will act with promptitude, and pay their donations to our Treasurer, so that he may be able as soon as possible to report to the Trustees of the General Fund the amount of benefactions thus obtained, and transfer the same to the Treasurer thereof.

CHURCH CONTRIBUTIONS.

In response to a call issued on Tuesday, the United Presbyterian ministers of this city met at the U. P. Book rooms, on Wednesday afternoon, to devise measures for concerted and speedy action on the part of their congregations in aid of Chicago.

After prayer and consultation, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

First—That a collection or subscription be taken up in each of our churches on next Sabbath in aid of the suffering in Chicago.

Second—That an appeal be made at the same time for clothing and material to make clothing and that donations of clothing be left at the Book rooms, No. 93 Third avenue.

Third—That Rev. J. M. Baugh and the Session of the First U. P. Church of Chicago, be appointed our agents to receive and distribute such aid as we may be enabled to forward.

Fourth—That all United Presbyterian Pastors and congregations in this vicinity be earnestly urged to co-operate with us in this movement.

Collections may be left with the officers of the meeting. Rev. J. G. Brown, D. D., Rev J. S. Sands, or Rev. S. Collins, 93 Third avenue.

GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION OF ENGINEERS.

The body known as the Western and Southern Benevolent Association, during the forenoon of yesterday, contributed a handsome donation amounting to $500. This action was most praiseworthy when the fact that many of these men have been compelled to lay idle as much as six months, owing to the very low stage of the water is taken into consideration.

A HELPING HAND FROM THE PILOTS.

At a meeting of pilots, held in their rooms during the morning, James Rafferty was appointed chairman, and James Shouse secretary. A committee of fourteen was appointed by the chair to solicit subscriptions from the pilots, as follows: George W. McCallum, Norval Pollard, Thomas Patterson, Charles Bailey, Robert Watson, Thomas Evans, James Bevington, Thomas Campbell, John McIntyre, James Rafferty, John T. Ragan, Charles May, Thomas Potts, Holmes Harper. It was decided that books be furnished to each of the committee by the secretary of the Pilots' Society, in which to record the subscriptions obtained. Wm. H. Dorsey was appointed treasurer. The meeting then adjourned.

Through the day the committee were actively at work and over $300 has already been subscribed. The pilots, like the engineers, have been lying idle throughout much of the summer season, and such generous action deserves special commendation.

THE GRAIN AND PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

The committee of this Association have obtained a number of additional subscriptions, among which are a number of large contributions. They have not yet finished their work but expect to to-day. The list of subscribers to the fund raised by this committee will be furnished as soon as the amount is handed over to the treasurer of the general fund.

MORE SUFFERERS FED IN THE CITY.

The Mayor received intelligence to the effect that there were numbers of penniless and hungry sufferers on their way East, on trains that would pass through the city about noon. By his orders a bountiful meal was prepared at the St. James Hotel, of which two hundred destitute ones partook, and went on their way rejoicing. The large-hearted proprietor of the hotel, Mr. J. K. Lanahan, with characteristic benevolence, furnished half the meals thus provided, free of cost.

Over one hundred persons, who arrived about six o'clock on a train with Mr. Patterson, Mayor's Clerk, were provided with a bountiful repast at the Union Hotel. The supper was donated by Mr. Yonger, manager of the hotel, which act of kindness we record with pleasure.

WORKHOUSE CONTRIBUTION.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Brush was called upon by Superintendent Cordier of the Workhouse, who paid over to him $127.50, collected from among the employees and inmates of the County Workhouse.

NECESSARIES OF ANOTHER KIND.

Mayor Brush yesterday afternoon purchased 102 boxes of soap and candles. The firm of B. C. Sawyer & Co., from whom the purchase was made, generously donated a similar amount, and these much needed articles were forwarded with other goods yesterday afternoon to the Pittsburgh depot at Chicago, to be disbursed as found best by our Committee of Supplies at that place.

IN OUR MIDST LAST NIGHT.

Five of the number who were fed at the Union Depot remained in the city, having acquaintances at this place whom they intend to find out, if possible. Two, a husband and wife, were furnished with money by Clerk Patterson and sent to a hotel, where they lodged last night. If the man can obtain employment, they will stay in this city. The other three, mother and two little daughters, were provided with comfortable beds at the Mayor's office. The story told by this poor woman is exceedingly affecting. The little she had was swept away from her in a moment, and she is now without a relation in this country. She is turned out shelterless, with her helpless children. She says she is acquainted with a man in this city by the name of Michael Ryan, who would no doubt receive her kindly, but she does not know where he lives.

MANY MORE COMING.

Word was received by telegraph yesterday at the Mayor's office, that five or six hundred more persons would pass through our city to-day and asking that they be provided with food on their arrival here. Arrangements will be made this morning, to this effect.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

Mr. Patterson, Mayor's clerk, who returned last evening, reports the condition of the city to be if possible worse than dispatches state. He thinks that a donation of coal would be acceptable. As much needed as anything else is glass, nails, &c., to assist in building the temporary cabins being erected to accommodate the sufferers.

ANOTHER THANKFUL DISPATCH.

At half-past eight o'clock last night, Mayor Brush received the following telegram in response to a message sent by him offering to send forward 1,000 boxes of glass and 1,000 kegs of nails, to be used in building temporary barracks for the houseless ones:

CHICAGO, October 12.

Jared M. Brush, Mayor:

Many thanks from our suffering ones for your aid and offer.
R. B. MASON,
Mayor.

ALLEGHENY.

The work in Allegheny is moving along briskly—activity being manifested everywhere.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

held a meeting at ten o'clock, in the Mayor's private office, when a dispatch was received from Mayor Mason, of Chicago, asking that all moneys sent be directed to D. A. Gage, the City Treasurer.

The committee decided, after an informal discussion, to make no more purchases for the present, but to hold all moneys for a few days, when the cash will be sent forward, unless the demand for more provisions comes from Chicago.

This, however, will in no way interfere with the shipment of any provisions which the people may contribute—all such will be thankfully received and immediately sent off.

The committee will meet again this morning.

THE ALLEGHENY LADIES,

represented by the committee appointed at the first meeting, were busy all day in the lecture room of Rev. Dr. Swift's Church, on Arch (Beaver) street, receiving and packing goods sent in that were ready-made, and cutting out, apportioning, &c., all the dry goods which required to be made up. There were many volunteers in the work—the workers considerably exceeding the demand. The supplies, though liberal, were not sufficient to keep all who came busy, but it is hoped, now that it is known that the ladies are engaged actively, that the contributions will come in more rapidly. The ladies will continue their meetings daily at the church so long as their services may be required. All donations of second-hand clothing, or dry goods of any kind will be received with thanks by the ladies at the church, and prepared as soon as possible for shipment. The ladies make their appeal to all who have any articles of clothing or dry goods which they may be able to contribute.

THE CITIZENS' MEETING

was called to order at eight o'clock by Mayor Callow, upon whose motion Mr. C. W. Cooper was called to the chair.

His Honor then stated that the work was going on encouragingly. Subscriptions of money and provisions and clothing were coming in freely.

Mr. W. D. Moore reported that Messrs. H. McNeil and James Caldwell had agreed to share with him the labor of canvassing the Fourth ward.

The chairman reported that there was now cash in the treasury of $8,183 85, and that a little over $2,000 remained to be paid in. Their bills would amount to four or five thousand dollars. It was proposed to hold the balance of this money for any demands which might be made upon them by the proper authority of Chicago. The committee desired an expression of opinion in regard to the disposal of the funds—whether for provisions or and had been thought best by the committee, to hold it for future contingencies.

Mr. W. D. Moore was opposed to sending any money to Chicago until the proper authorities had designated some responsible person to take charge of the funds and see that they were properly distributed. There would be dissatisfaction in their financial arrangements if some system was not adhered to.

Mr. Cooper said the Committee did not propose to send any money until they were authorized to do so by the proper authorities, and they would see that it was put into the right hands. He thought they should hold back in sending a little, for the money perhaps would be needed in the winter months to come.

Col. Glenn stated that he had started out during the day with a paper, setting forth that the signers agreed to loan to the city the amounts set opposite our names without interest—provided Councils passed a resolution pledging the city for $50,000 for the Chicago Aid Fund, subject to the passage of an act by the Legislature legalizing the donation of the amount by the city. To this paper he had procured the signatures of Capt. W. J. Kountz, Sheriff Hugh S. Fleming, Hon. James L. Graham and William Semple, Esq., for $5,000 each. He therefore moved that Councils be requested by the Citizens meeting to make the appropriation.

Mr. S. H. Geyer said he had been talking to several Councilmen, and he was satisfied they would not make any appropriation. They considered it illegal, as it certainly was. He proposed, therefore, an amendment to the motion, that "Councils be requested to ask the people to make contributions to the amount of $50,000—Councils pledging themselves to use all their influence to have the Legislature pass an act to legalize an appropriation to pay them all back."

The speaker said this would avoid all difficulty, as every man giving would do so in an amount which he could stand—provided he never got it back. This excitement might go down, and there is no telling that will be done. He believed in raising the money, but wanted no afterclaps. He thought under this arrangement the money could easily be raised. Councils in this way would not assure the subscribers that they would get their money back, but they (Councils) would "use all their influence" to get an act passed to enable them to get their money refunded.

Mr. James M. Cooper, doubted whether Councils or even the Legislature had a right to make any such appropriations,—for they were not made to give away the people's money for other purposes than keeping up the government of the State and city—not to any charity however deserving. His idea was that the best plan was to allow the subscriptions to go on—let the collectors get the money directly from the people. He believed if the matter was carried on properly and energetically a considerable amount could be raised. If the matter was left to the liberality and sympathies of the citizens, he thought the "free, frank offerings" would come up in an amount that would be creditable to all.

Mr. L. R. Lindsay thought that was not much liberality to make a subscription in the hope that it would be paid back by Councils. He favored letting the people donate just what they could, and he thought a creditable amount could be raised.

Mr. James Caldwell thought it was a bad precedent to ask Councils to appropriate money in this way. If this matter had never been talked of in this way, the people would before this time, have contributed the full amount asked. As it was, they were holding back to see what action Councils would take, hence the collectors had difficulty in making collections.

Mr. R. H. Davis concurred in this opinion.

Captain Kountz said the collectors had been working; it hadn't worked very well so far. He remembered during the war that in his ward $33,000 was needed for war purposes, and then he heard no talk that it was unconstitutional. He thought this a parallel case; he believed the Legislature could pass such an act legally. It was the only way Allegheny would be able to raise the amount. It would reach the men who were too mean to give, and men who were too mean to give in such a case as this, would be too mean to go to the expense of testing the constitutionality of the act. [Applause.] By this act all would be reached, and it was in every way equitable.

Mr. Leggate cited the action of Councils in first giving the Library a room a few years ago, and then when the Library was flourishing, demand the room had all been fitted up, to come in and demand it back again. (Laughter.) It would not do to have unbounded faith is what any future Council would do.

Mr. John P. Dean of Common Council now came in and reported that Common Council had agreed to donate $25,000. It was explained that Councils were ready to take this amount out of the Treasury—subject to approval by the Legislature—and thus the citizens would not be asked to contribute at all, unless they wished to swell the amount.

The motion of Mr. Geyer was then put and defeated.

Mr. Jno. Brown then moved that Councils be requested to donate $25,000, [which was simply an approval of what the Common Council had done, as reported.]

Mr. Henderson Davis asked if a part of this was to go to the refunding of those who had already contributed.

The chairman said it was additional—a clean sweep.

Mr. Boyd was opposed to the motion. A great many had already given all they could afford, and it was unjust to assess a tax upon them. The poor property owners would suffer.

Mr. Brown said the taxable property of the city was about seven millions of dollars. A tax on that amount to raise $25,000 couldn't hurt anybody—the assessment would not be much, probably in most cases not more than one dollar or a dollar and a half.

Mr. John U. Barr said there was too much talk about other people. He talked for himself. He had already made a contribution and was perfectly willing to pay any tax, which might be assessed to pay that donation of $25,000. He hoped all who were present would look at the matter in this way and each man vote for himself.

Mr. Hanna contended that this meeting didn't represent the people of Allegheny. He believed in allowing those who were able to pay their own money and let their neighbors do their own will. They could not give other people's money.

Mr. Callery asked where the money was to come from, whether it could come from any fund which would not compel the levying of a tax.

Capt. Kountz explained that if there was that amount ($25,000) in the sinking fund, it could be donated as directed, and there would be no need for levying a tax.

After some further discussion the motion of Mr. Brown was carried by what appeared to be a large majority.

Mr. Brown was then appointed a committee to instruct Councils that the citizens in meeting assembled had recommended the appropriation of $25,000.

Some discussion then ensued as to whether the tax was to be assessed or the money taken out of the sinking fund. The general impression seemed to be that there ought to be a tax.

Mr. Cooper.—Now let us go home and sleep over this, and come back to the meeting to-morrow night and see if we are in the same tempers. I think we've acted unwisely. I think this will stop all our subscriptions. We don't need collectors now. I am sorry this has happened. I came here with a check to subscribe, but I'll not give it in now; I'll wait till to-morrow and see what is to be done. I suggest it's not too late to amend our action.

No action was taken further, however, and the meeting adjourned.

PHILIP HOERR, P.M.

Prince Albert.

A beautiful quality of Black Alpaca, imported by a leading Philadelphia house, and bearing the above name, is worthy the attention of our lady readers, and all who purchase this desirable and cheap fabric for dresses and suits. They have already become widely popular in the East, and we believe them superior to any other make of Alpaca. The main point of excellence is their beautiful shade and texture, and, being finished so perfectly on both sides, they admit of being turned after long service, without loss of color or freshness. Our attention was drawn to these goods at Messrs. J. B. Heard & Co's., who are introducing them in this market. We were shown very pretty qualities at thirty to fifty cents. WFS.

RELIEF FOR CHICAGO.

Mr. John Brown, Jr., came into the Council chamber, and, by permission, presented the resolutions passed at the citizens' meeting.

MR. HALL called up the resolution passed in C. C. appropriating $25,000 to Chicago, and moved that S. C. concur in the action of C. C.

MR. MEGRAW said he would be compelled to vote against the resolution, on the ground that Councils had no right to vote away the people's money without asking their consent.

MR. HALL said the city had no money which it could appropriate at this time. He would therefore make an amendment to the effect that the citizens be requested to advance the amount.

MR. PHILLIPS was opposed to the amendment. He said Councils should be prompt in giving aid to the suffering of Chicago, and he thought the resolution should pass without a dissenting voice.

MR. HALL—If there is any objection I am willing to withdraw the amendment. It is my desire to render aid as speedily as possible.

MR. MEGRAW insisted that it would be very wrong to give any of the people's money without their consent.

MR. RIDDLE said he would vote against the resolution. He was not afraid to show his hand. We had no right to take the people's money for any such purpose.

MR. HALL'S amendment was read, as follows:

WHEREAS, There are no funds in the city treasury at present, and we request the citizens to loan the city that amount, the same to be refunded as soon as appropriate legislation can be procured.

MR. PATTERSON said he did not like the expressions of the resolution. He was in favor of giving what we were able to give. He did not think the city was able to give $25,000.

MR. PHILLIPS said he had just understood that four gentlemen had said at the citizens meeting that they each would advance $5,000. The names of those gentlemen were Hugh S. Fleming, Wm. Semple, James L. Graham and W. J. Kountz.

The amendment was lost.

The question then recurred on the resolution.

Mr. McBrier (Mr. Hall in the chair) said that he would vote for the resolution. [Applause in the lobby.] He did not believe that the citizens of Allegheny would go back on Councils for appropriating this amount. [Great applause in the lobby.] Such action might not be strictly legal, but he thought, under existing circumstances, it could be done without fear of any trouble hereafter.

The yeas and nays were called, and resulted as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Huckenstine, Phillips, Rineman, Schoyer, McBrier—5.

Nays—Messrs. Hall, Heagy, Megraw, Moul, Omsler. Patterson, Riddle, Witmer—8.

So the motion to concur was lost.

The announcement of the vote was followed by hissing in the lobby.

MR. PHILLIPS—Now let us adjourn and go home.

The President, with a vigorous rapping of the gavel, checked the disorder in the lobby, after which he administered a rebuke to those who had taken part in it.

Council then adjourned.

Common Council.

All the members present except Messrs. Brahm, Dalzell, Heckel, Taggart and President Slack.

President pro tem, Mr. Hugh McNeill.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

PETITIONS, ETC.

MR. BROWN, petition for water main extended along Spring alley. Referred.

MR. SMITH, remonstrance against the Robinson street sewer. Referred.

MR. GILLILAND, remonstrance against the change of name of Western avenue. Referred.

MR. COOKE, resolution for gas lamp on Chartiers street. Referred.

The Chair then read a report of the Directors of the Poor, which showed that they had sold 73 lots of the Poor Farm, which realized $34,360, or an average of $471 per lot. There are yet 150 lots remaining unsold. This does not include the seven acres around the Poor House, which has not been sold out in lots. Report approved.

MR. COMLEY, remonstrance against a sewer on Beaver street. Referred.

MR. WALTER, Remonstrance against the sewer on Morgan street. Referred.

A former report from the Committee on Wharves and Landings was passed in Common Council, but in S. C. non-concurred in. C. C. adhered to former action, and asked for a Committee of Conference. Messrs. Hastings, Beilstein and Smith appointed on part of C. C.

MR. ROWBOTTOM, from the Gas Committee, reported the following:

That the appropriation had been overdrawn to the amount of $576 72, not counting the bills not yet paid, which makes the whole amount $4,306 68. They report that they must have a transfer of at least $5,000 to carry them through the year, and then even they will not be able to pay the gas companies' bill for the last quarter, amounting to $3,629 20. They therefore recommend the passage of a resolution authorizing the Controller to transfer $5,000 from Contingent Fund to appropriation on gas. Report accepted and resolution passed.

MR. HASTINGS, from the Committee on Wharves and Landings, reported a plan for a wharf in the Eighth ward; also, the following:

Resolved, That the Committee on W. & L. be, and are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals for making a wharf in front of the Ellsworth Engine House, Eighth ward. Report accepted and resolution adopted. Plan was also approved.

MR. COMLEY, from the Committee on Markets, reported the following receipts for September:

Markets	$1,146 45
Second Ward Scales	314 20
Diamond Scales	224 63
	$1,685 28

Relative to the resolution concerning the weighing of coal, &c., upon the city scales in the opinion of your committee, the law is sufficient, as it now stands upon the code, and that it is within the power of any consumer (in whose interest the ordinances concerning this matter are framed,) to prosecute every seller, who violates the same, and that not only that the consumer or purchaser is in the position to be prosecuted by any person if the coal he buys has not been weighed on the city scales. Accepted and filed.

RELIEF FOR CHICAGO.

MR. HASTINGS, resolution donating $25,000 for the relief of the sufferers of Chicago, and recommending an application to the legislature for an enabling act authorizing the Councils to donate that sum.

MR. KNOX—I move an amendment making it $50,000.

The amendment was lost.

The original resolution was then passed.

The action of S. C. on Howard street was nonconcurred in by C. C.

C. C. also nonconcurred in action of S. C. in changing name of James street to Pearl street.

The ordinance for sewer on Arch street, passed in S. C. was laid over in C. C.

On motion adjourned.

The funeral will take place THIS (Friday) AFTERNOON, at 2½ o'clock, from the residence of her parents, Second avenue, near Copper Works. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

[It is sad to realize that gentle Maggie has passed from earth to eternity. It is a beautiful and consoling thought, however, that the angels seek the purest on earth to gladden heaven with their presence, and so in the dark hour of grief we resign ourselves to the will of the Great Disposer of all things, believing that our fair, gentle and good friend lives among the cherubims and seraphims surrounding the throne of her Creator, chanting hosannahs of joy and glory. To God we consign her soul, to earth her ashes, to our hearts sweet memory of the flower that faded from among us to bloom elsewhere.—H. J.]
